Lincoln A Favorite McKechnic will spend unending time on small problems. Even when he was a player he used to keep a rake in his locker and be his own groundkeeper for the territory around third where he played. He is crazy about cakes, all kinds of desserts and home cooking. He has a collection of pipes, including one specially built model with a crooked stem which he can smoke when he's hunting and doesn't have to take out of his mouth to shoot. He also smokes cigarettes, using an ivory

His favorite literature is historical biography. "Honest Abe" Lincoln is one of his favorite historical characters.

His dress is plain and simple. He likes white shirts and is partial to bow ties. He has his suits tailor-made of the finest quality woolens. He prefers quality above quantity in clothes.

He believes baseball is a young nan's game, and will forgive much in a youngster who is hustling and trying to improve himself.

On the field he tries to let the players think for themselves, and is constantly striving to build up the confidence of each of his men. He wants every man to be able to think for himself in an emer-

When he loses a tough ball game he shuns company until he cools down. He has been known to sit for hours by himself in the park after losing a close one.
