

Tyrone Turns Jitterbug In His Newest Picture

Power Shows Fans He Can Sing, Dance

Making Film With Sonja Henie; Successor To Lambeth Walk Shown

HOLLYWOOD, April 1—(INS)—If Tyrone Power stays in the movies long enough, he'll become a very versatile young man.

For his new picture at 20th Century-Fox, "Second Fiddle," Ty will lift his voice in a torch song and do a little jitterbugging as well.

Since he broke into the movies almost three years ago Power has gained at least a nodding acquaintance with violin technique, has become a fairly proficient horseman, a good swimmer, a swordsman of no mean ability, an excellent tennis player and something of a linguist.

Adding singing to his repertoire started in "Rose of Washington Square," which is just in the cutting stage. In this picture, in which Alice Faye was his love interest, Ty's vocalizing was confined more to gestures and mimicking than voice because it was a humorous travesty.

In "Second Fiddle," in which Sonja Henie, once his real love, will be the romantic appeal, Power sings his first serious song, composed by Irving Berlin.

Ty has just begun rehearsals for the dance, along with Rudy Vallee, another stellar member of the cast. As partners he will have Sonja, Mary Healy, the beautiful young lady from New Orleans, Edna May Oliver and about 40 of Hollywood's most beautiful dancing girls. This dance, evolved by Dance Director Harry Loese, is called "Back to Back."

It's a combination of trucking, the Suzy Q and the Lambeth Walk. It is performed while the partners gyrate and go through an intricate series of gyrations not only with the persons facing them, but with the persons facing them.

Speaking of dancing, Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire are at their shining best in "The Life of Irene and Vernon Castle." Don't miss it!

PLANS ARE MADE FOR BANQUET OF HONOR SOCIETY

(Lima News Bureau)

KENTON, April 1—Plans for the annual banquet and initiation of the Hardin-co chapter of the National Honor Society, which will be held April 19 at the local Church of Christ, were made at a meeting of the committee of advisors in charge, held at the office of Frank C. Ransdell, county superintendent of schools. Some 100 pupils of the Hardin-co school system will attend.

The council, which is the governing body representing each high school of the county system, will meet again at the office of the superintendent on Tuesday to complete arrangements for the affair. Initiation ceremonies will be planned for the newly-elected members.

At present there are between 65 and 70 juniors and seniors who are members of the organization and about 35 sophomores who are probationary members.

The council in charge, made up of faculty members of the various schools of the county system, includes: Aron Unger of Alger, president; Louise Harvey of Mt. Victory, vice president; Richard Curless of Forest, secretary; Richard Bradstock of Dunkirk, Eldon Shook of McGuffey, Paul Fisher of Ridgeway, Boyd Sobers of Roundhead and Virden Crawford of Dela.

Student officials of the group include: Kent Cotterman of Alger, president; Janice Tallman of Ridgeway, vice president, and Helen Forney of Forest, secretary.

TEN PLAN TO ATTEND HISTORICAL UNIT MEET

When the annual meeting of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society is held Columbus from Thursday thru Saturday, 10 Lima district residents are expected to attend.

They are: J. A. MacDonald, C. A. Rusler, E. O. Zumwalt, Dr. and Mrs. William Roush, Mrs. F. E. Beam, Mrs. John Breese, Mrs. S. K. Harris, Mrs. Harry Longworth and Mrs. F. L. Maire, all of Lima, and Abner Emmenon of Elida.

The new oil "cracking" process permits the petroleum industry to obtain twice as much gasoline from a barrel of crude oil as formerly. Thus the gasoline production of known oil reserves has been doubled.

Raft And Burns Booked On 'Screen Guild Show' Sunday

"A Mug, A Moll, and A Mountaineer" Will Be Featured; Rosalind Russell To Portray Woman President

George Raft and Bob Burns will make the Hatfields and the McCoy's look like a bunch of sissies when "Raft, The Rat" and "Burns, The Rural Racketeer" start a feud for the control of the Ozark Mountains with the help of Edna May Oliver, the Bryan Sisters, Warren Hymer, Virginia Verrill, and George Murphy in "A Mug, A Moll, and a Mountaineer," the feature attraction on the "Screen Guild Show" over WABC Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

In a recent Los Angeles press conference, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was quoted as saying: "There is no basic reason why a woman should not be a President of the United States."

The first lady's statement gives added significance to the two-part Silver Theatre drama, "For Us, The Living," in which Rosalind Russell portrays the role of America's first woman president.

The second and concluding chapter of the drama, produced by Conrad Nagel with music by Felix Mills, will be heard Sunday, over WABC at 6:00 p. m.

"No Other Life," a drama of regeneration set on the harsh Australian desert, will be the co-starring vehicle for Charles Boyer and Mary Astor, during the Hollywood Playhouse program over WJZ Sunday at 9:00 p. m.

Adapted from a short story by James Warwick, "No Other Life" is the dramatic tale of an exile who makes his home with a pioneering woman and her son. His identity, carefully guarded, comes to light when he is called upon to help the son in a fight against death.

Cary Grant will resume his duties as head of The Circle on the WEAF broadcast Sunday, at 10:00 p. m., after an absence of several weeks due to pressure of motion picture work.

On the program as a guest will be Madeleine Carroll, screen star much in demand on radio programs originating in Hollywood. She will be heard in a one-act play. Basil Rathbone will appear as master of revels, while others featured will be Groucho and Chico Marx, John Carter and The Foudsome accompanied by Robert Emmet Dolan's orchestra.

Bernie Cummins, who says it was football and not boxing that gave him a broken nose and a cauliflower ear, will lead his orchestra on the Bandwagon program Sunday, at 7:30 p. m., over WEAF.

Cummins, an athletically inclined fellow, was not only a football player, but a ballroom dancer before he got into the band business by the drum playing route. Today his orchestra is noted for its balanced combination of sweet and swing. Singers with Bernie's band on the Sunday broadcast from Pittsburgh will be his brother, Walter, and Connie Darlan.

Subway patrons will have an opportunity to settle a grudge with their natural enemies, the subway

STATIONS THAT MAKE UP THE NETWORKS

(Note: Refer to list for stations of networks indicated after each program item. All programs are carried over stations and basic classes or groups thereof unless specified.)

NBC-WEAF (RED): BASIC—East: NBC-CHM; West: WABC; Midwest: WJZ; South: WFLA; Mountain: WYLL.

NBC-WEAF (RED): BASIC—East: NBC-CHM; West: WABC; Midwest: WJZ; South: WFLA; Mountain: WYLL.

NBC-WEAF (RED): BASIC—East: NBC-CHM; West: WABC; Midwest: WJZ; South: WFLA; Mountain: WYLL.

NBC-WEAF (RED): BASIC—East: NBC-CHM; West: WABC; Midwest: WJZ; South: WFLA; Mountain: WYLL.

NBC-WEAF (RED): BASIC—East: NBC-CHM; West: WABC; Midwest: WJZ; South: WFLA; Mountain: WYLL.

NBC-WEAF (RED): BASIC—East: NBC-CHM; West: WABC; Midwest: WJZ; South: WFLA; Mountain: WYLL.

Book Reviews

Books Reviewed Here May Be Obtained At The Lima Public Library, Main Library

By MARY LATHROP

THE PATRIOT. By Pearl S. Buck. John Day Co. $2.50.

Mrs. Buck's China of this story is a completely different one from that of "The Good Earth." This time she pictures wealthy, aristocratic families. Old General Wu had been sent to Europe to study and he in turn sent his son and grandsons to Japan and to Europe to be educated. The younger grandson, I-wan, after getting his education went to Japan to enter into business there. He married a Japanese girl and they were ideally happy until the war came. Then I-wan went back to China to fight for his country.

In this book Mrs. Buck is showing the admirable qualities of the two great Oriental peoples and also the differences which have made them hostile to each other.

THE RIDDLE OF THE WORLD. By David Smith Cairns. Round Table Press. $3.00.

Dr. Cairns deals in this book with the issues which have been for a generation the great issues of philosophy and religion and especially of the Christian faith. In a thorough way he sets forth the theistic as against the materialistic view of the world, and also gives a fine presentation of the problem of freedom and the mystery of evil. "There is a curious paradox about this volume. It is not highly provocative, is seldom quotable, and no startling discoveries or original insight and yet there it all there burns like a great soul and a great personality which makes a noteworthy contribution to theological literature."

FIVE O'CLOCK WHISTLE. By Ramona Herdman, Harper and Brothers. $2.50.

This is the story of the struggle of David Lytle, son of a millworker in a small milling town, to better himself. David is sent to Paris to study music but before finishing his course he is called home by the illness of his mother. It is necessary for him to go to work in the mill which has killed both his father and mother.

There is drama in the book; there is a realistic portrayal of the everyday existence of a typical American family. But it shows that America is still a land of promise and opportunity for the unusual person who will work to obtain a higher position.

WATERWAY. By Eleanor Dark. Macmillan and Co. $2.50.

There is always something fascinating about novels which record the happenings of a single day in the lives of a group of people. The characters in this book all face some crisis in their lives; they all live in a suburb across the bay from Sidney, Australia. A ferryboat accident solves most of their problems. It is a thoroughly satisfying novel, one which tells a story competently, reveals character, captures the attention and

REHEARSALS FOR PLAY NEAR END

Roundhead High school's senior class has about completed the rehearsal work on its class play "Silas Marner" which is to be presented April 7 at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

The play is a dramatized version of the famous book of the same name written by the much-loved English authoress of the 19th century, George Eliot. The dramatist is Wall Spence. As far as conditions will permit the play will be produced in the spirit and atmosphere in which George Eliot's original characters moved. Since this beautiful story of how a grasping miser's greed for gold was miraculously turned to a little child after the gold had been stolen from him, has had such a universal appeal to the thousands who have read it, a large crowd is expected for the final performance.

Roger Barns will play the title role of Silas Marner. Others who are included in the cast are: Maxine Ford, Margaret Myers, Miriam Roberts, Helen Fry, Anna Bocher, Myra Cox, Iris Thomas, Dwight Bowdle, Duncan Clark, Dan Jones, Robert Barns, John Hill, Jr., William Stuber, Wilbur Biederman and Wilmer Dodds. The play is under the direction of Boyd M. Sobers, dramatics instructor.

Government experts estimated nearly 65 per cent of the total crop land in the United States, or 282,659,000 acres, was affected by some phase of the agricultural adjustment program in 1938.

A Jersey cow stolen at Hale Center, Tex., returned two days later dragging a brand new rope to its owner.

Best Bets Sunday

- 2:00—The Magic Key, WJZ.
- 5:30—Ben Bernie and Lew Lehr, WABC.
- 6:00—Conrad Nagel's Theatre, WABC.
- 6:30—Hollywood Gateway, WABC.
- 7:00—Jack Benny and Mary, WEAF.
- 7:30—Screen Guild Show, WABC.
- 8:00—Charlie McCarthy, WEAF.
- 9:00—The Hollywood Playhouse, WJZ.
- 10:00—The Circle, Variety, WEAF.
- 10:00—Bob Benchley's Program, WABC.

guards, during Paul Wing's Spelling Bee Sunday at 5:30 p. m., over WEAF. A team of five lady strap-hangers will oppose a similar number of "underground conductors" in the spell-down. Words from Webster's dictionary, however, will be the only ones accepted, and teams will be judged on their ability to spell, rather than to use or misuse words.

Jack Oakie in a comedy spot and Wallace Ford, stage and screen star, being interviewed by Charlie McCarthy are the special features on the program Sunday. The regular line-up for the broadcast over WEAF at 8:00 p. m., includes Don Ameche, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, Donald Dickson and Robert Armstrong's orchestra.

Long a film favorite, Jack Oakie brings a comedy-style all his own to radio listeners. His most recent movies were the "Annabel" series in which he played the fat, jovial press agent.

Wallace Ford took the part of George in the very successful stage play, "Of Mice and Men." He will attempt to hold his own in an exchange of barbed wit with Charlie McCarthy who is still recovering from his New York visit.

Jack Benny, the gold brick in the high hat of Hollywood, will swap April Fool's Day yarns with his gang and help Rochester pick out an Easter outfit during the broadcast with Mary Livingstone, Kenney Baker, Don Wilson and Phil Harris' orchestra, over WEAF Sunday at 7:00 p. m.

Benny, who found out to his sorrow that the idea of putting movieplots in pocketbooks is not original with him, will make left-handed notations on his script while favoring a badly mashed right thumb and forefinger—tokens of the previous day's battle of hallwits. Jack claims he feels like an old cigarette; he's been the butt of so many pranks.

The hapless comedian says he can overlook the exploding cigar that Phil gave him, and he's all ready to forgive Benny for putting sally in the sugar bowl, since he learned to like things briny while he was in the navy. But Jack claims that no one save a buffoon hired by Fred Allen would stoop to putting itching powder down his neck when he was on his way to a costume ball in a suit of armor.

Famous Metropolitan Opera stars will be in NBC's great Studio 8-H Sunday at 5:00 p. m., to applaud the latest recruits to their ranks. Winners in NBC's Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air, their identities will not be known until the season's final broadcast of the series begins at that hour over WJZ.

Impressive religious services from Rome to San Francisco, including the first Easter Papal Benediction of His Holiness Pope Pius XII, carrying on a tradition established by the late Pius XI, will highlight more than 30 special programs to be heard over National Broadcasting Co. networks during the Easter season.

Reports on Easter fashions in Paris and New York, style capitals of the world, addresses by leading churchmen, and appropriate musical and dramatic presentations also are scheduled to be broadcast during Holy Week, beginning Palm Sunday, April 2, and culminating Easter Sunday, April 9.

On April 9, from the balcony of historic St. Peter's Cathedral in Rome, Pope Pius XII will give his Easter blessing to the world during a broadcast over the combined NBC-Blue and NBC-Red networks from 6:30 to 7:00 a. m. The NBC networks will be opened an hour and a half earlier than usual to carry the special broadcast which also will consist of the concluding portion of the Easter High Mass in St. Peter's and a description of the scene.

Government experts estimated nearly 65 per cent of the total crop land in the United States, or 282,659,000 acres, was affected by some phase of the agricultural adjustment program in 1938.

A Jersey cow stolen at Hale Center, Tex., returned two days later dragging a brand new rope to its owner.

Book Reviews

Books Reviewed Here May Be Obtained At The Lima Public Library, Main Library

By MARY LATHROP

THE PATRIOT. By Pearl S. Buck. John Day Co. $2.50.

Mrs. Buck's China of this story is a completely different one from that of "The Good Earth." This time she pictures wealthy, aristocratic families. Old General Wu had been sent to Europe to study and he in turn sent his son and grandsons to Japan and to Europe to be educated. The younger grandson, I-wan, after getting his education went to Japan to enter into business there. He married a Japanese girl and they were ideally happy until the war came. Then I-wan went back to China to fight for his country.

In this book Mrs. Buck is showing the admirable qualities of the two great Oriental peoples and also the differences which have made them hostile to each other.

THE RIDDLE OF THE WORLD. By David Smith Cairns. Round Table Press. $3.00.

Dr. Cairns deals in this book with the issues which have been for a generation the great issues of philosophy and religion and especially of the Christian faith. In a thorough way he sets forth the theistic as against the materialistic view of the world, and also gives a fine presentation of the problem of freedom and the mystery of evil. "There is a curious paradox about this volume. It is not highly provocative, is seldom quotable, and no startling discoveries or original insight and yet there it all there burns like a great soul and a great personality which makes a noteworthy contribution to theological literature."

FIVE O'CLOCK WHISTLE. By Ramona Herdman, Harper and Brothers. $2.50.

This is the story of the struggle of David Lytle, son of a millworker in a small milling town, to better himself. David is sent to Paris to study music but before finishing his course he is called home by the illness of his mother. It is necessary for him to go to work in the mill which has killed both his father and mother.

There is drama in the book; there is a realistic portrayal of the everyday existence of a typical American family. But it shows that America is still a land of promise and opportunity for the unusual person who will work to obtain a higher position.

WATERWAY. By Eleanor Dark. Macmillan and Co. $2.50.

There is always something fascinating about novels which record the happenings of a single day in the lives of a group of people. The characters in this book all face some crisis in their lives; they all live in a suburb across the bay from Sidney, Australia. A ferryboat accident solves most of their problems. It is a thoroughly satisfying novel, one which tells a story competently, reveals character, captures the attention and

REHEARSALS FOR PLAY NEAR END

Roundhead High school's senior class has about completed the rehearsal work on its class play "Silas Marner" which is to be presented April 7 at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

The play is a dramatized version of the famous book of the same name written by the much-loved English authoress of the 19th century, George Eliot. The dramatist is Wall Spence. As far as conditions will permit the play will be produced in the spirit and atmosphere in which George Eliot's original characters moved. Since this beautiful story of how a grasping miser's greed for gold was miraculously turned to a little child after the gold had been stolen from him, has had such a universal appeal to the thousands who have read it, a large crowd is expected for the final performance.

Roger Barns will play the title role of Silas Marner. Others who are included in the cast are: Maxine Ford, Margaret Myers, Miriam Roberts, Helen Fry, Anna Bocher, Myra Cox, Iris Thomas, Dwight Bowdle, Duncan Clark, Dan Jones, Robert Barns, John Hill, Jr., William Stuber, Wilbur Biederman and Wilmer Dodds. The play is under the direction of Boyd M. Sobers, dramatics instructor.

Government experts estimated nearly 65 per cent of the total crop land in the United States, or 282,659,000 acres, was affected by some phase of the agricultural adjustment program in 1938.

A Jersey cow stolen at Hale Center, Tex., returned two days later dragging a brand new rope to its owner.

REVENUE BOND FUND RETIRED AT VAN WERT

(Special To The Lima News)

VAN WERT, April 1—A revenue bond debt which has been a headache to city administration officers for nearly a half century is a ghost of the past, with the retirement of the last bonds issued for construction of the original municipal waterworks plant and distribution system. The final bonds totaling $5,000 were paid Saturday.

The original issue of bonds totaling $120,000 was made February 17, 1891 and drew five per cent interest. For 20 years no provision was made to retire the bonds and until March 14, 1911, only the interest was paid.

At that time the original bonds were called in, new bonds issued at 4.15 per cent interest are from 1916, the date when the first bonds became due, the city has paid $5,000 yearly.

TAX PENALTY DEADLINE EXTENDED TO APRIL 10

Personal property tax returns will be received without penalty until 5 p. m. April 10, it was announced Saturday by Auditor Floyd B. Griffin.

"Altho March 31 was the deadline, we will list personal taxes without penalty during the 10-day period required for checking over the collection made thus far," Griffin said.

Approximately 1,700 persons have yet to file the returns, according to the auditor.

FINDLAY JUDGE WILL SERVE ON LOCAL BENCH

(Special To The Lima News)

Judge Chester Pendleton, of Hancock-co common pleas court, has been assigned to the Allen-co bench for one week starting April 10, it was announced Saturday by Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio supreme court.

The Findlay jurist will serve in the absence of Judge Neal L. Lora, who has been confined to his home, 1522 W. High-st., by illness. Lora's condition was reported much improved Saturday.

NEA DIRECTOR WILL ADDRESS LIMA TEACHERS

Miss Florence B. Reynolds, regional director of the department of classroom teachers of the National Education-association, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Lima Teachers-association to be held Monday at 8 p. m. at Central High auditorium. An invitation to attend has been extended to all teachers in the Lima area, according to Marion F. Seitz, president of the local group.

Miss Reynolds, teacher in the Omaha public schools, and one of the three classroom directors of the United States, is interested in both the National Education-association and the Ohio organization. It was thru the efforts of H. C. Roberson, head of the industrial arts department at South High school and president of the Classroom Teachers of Ohio, that Miss Reynolds arranged to come to Lima.

Visit the Stores for the Thrill of Springtime!

Spring is here -- Easter Next Sunday -- Lima stores are prepared with the most elaborate array of Spring merchandise they have ever shown --

The Advance Styles are portrayed for you Daily in the Pages of the Lima News -- If you want to be correctly informed Read Your Newspaper

Today at EQUITY

Fried Young CHICKEN DINNER

39¢

With whipped or sweet potatoes, vegetable side dish, bread, butter, drink and ice cream at—

EQUITY Dairy Store

213 N. Main

Be Wise!

CHOOSE THE

BLINKING OWL CLUB

For Better Times

Get the "good-time" habit—drop in at the Blinking Owl Club often. Whether you stop for a bottle of beer or stay the entire evening you'll be sure to have a fine time—every time.

Sunday Dinner at The BARR

Enjoy a Thick STEAK Today At The Milano Cafe 466 N. Main

THE LIMA NEWS

NORTHWESTERN OHIO'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER