Boris Karloff To Deliver Dramatic Soliloquy On Air

Expert Horror Purveyor Of Films To Be Cast In New Type Role On Rudy Vallee Hour

Boris Karloff, expert horror purveyor in the movies, steps out of that role to deliver a dramatic solloony on the Rudy Vallee hour Thursday.

Said Vallee of Karloff in one of his previous appearances on the hour that's heard over WEAF at 8 p. m. "I am inclined to wonder why the movies find nothing better for him to do than the horror tales with which he is now so firmly identified."

To foil the type casting that's prevalent in Hollywood. Rudy presents Boris Karloff in "Resurrection," a dramatic piece written originally for the Canadian Broadcasting Commission. The musical setting was composed by Robert Armbruster, brilliant young conductor.

The Choral Society will be heard again as the Easter week feature of the Music Hall Thursday when Bing Crosby has Rosemary Lane and Alan Mowbray as guest stars. The regular company for the broadcast over WEAF at 10 p.m. includes Bob Burns. The Music Maids, and John Scott Trotter's orchestra.

A mixed chorus made up of 80 employes in Chicago, the Choral Society will sing Easter music. The group was organized in 1936 at the instigation of J. L. Kraft, president of the corporation. Vacationing from the movie lots for a night. Rosemary Lane and Alan Mowbray will toss verbiage around with Bing in two separate interviews. The Crosby songs are "Sing a Song of Sunbeams," "We've Come a Long Way Together," "After I Say I'm Sorry,' the latter being the weekly memory song. The Music Maids will Barry Fitzgerald, the Irish actor who won international fame for his work in the "Plough and the Stars" and is currently starred in "The White Steed" on Broadway, will appear in an original Irish play on the "Kate Smith Hour" Thursday at 8 p. m. over WABC.
