

Jack Haley Will Do "Local Boy Makes Good" Air Drama

Great Supporting Cast To Aid Comedian On Friday Program; Gracie Allen Set To Revue Easter Styles

Successfully returning to the old home town, Jack Haley and his show will whet the airwaves with an original musical comedy entitled "Local Boy Makes Good" on Friday at 7:30 p. m. over WABC.

Artie (Could-Be) Auerbach and Lucille Ball, the Happy-Haley-Hecklers will be on tap for the half-hour. A musical treat is promised by vegetarian Virginia Verill, who will warble "Hurray for Spinach" as Ted Fio-Rito and his famous orchestra provide the musical air-fare.

Not to be outdone by the fashion experts, Gracie Allen will jump into the limelight with a word-by-word description of what her famous family will wear in the Easter Parade when she comes to the mike on the Burns and Allen program Friday at 8:30 p. m. over WABC.

Gracie's breathless, deathless details of what the Allens have resurrected from the family attic will be related to the public between musical numbers. Ray Noble will play "St. Louis Blues" and Frank Parker's solo will be "Penny Serenade." Gracie will sing but her song is shhh . . . secret.

Rosemarie Brancato, soprano, will recreate the voice of Christine Nilsson, Swedish opera star of the 19th century, in "Ave Maria," the Old Ranger's Easter-tide story for the Death Valley Days broadcast, Friday at 9:30 p. m. over WABC. The dramatization will recall Mme. Nilsson's operatic tour of this country and the story of her visit to the mission of San Xavier del Bac, where, impressed by the beauty of the church, she began to sing Gounod's "Ave Maria." Her singing brought tears to the eyes of the Indians, and they knelt instinctively in the aisles. Miss Brancato will sing "Ave Maria" and several arias from the opera during the broadcast.

Interesting episodes in the history of the petroleum industry will be traced in "The Romance of Oil," weekly dramatic series to be presented as an added feature of the programs over WABC at 8:00 p. m., beginning Friday. Musical highlights of the Good Friday broadcast will include the intermezzo, "Agnus Dei" from Bizet's "L'Arlesienne" suite, sung by Lucille Manners; the "Easter" Overture of Rimsky-Korsakov, played by Frank Black and the orchestra, and "Wanting You"

FOR EASTER PARTY

BOYS AND GIRLS TO DRESS FOR EASTER PARADE

Party program Friday at 9 p. m. over WJZ. Louise Massey and the Westerners will sing "Cheyenne" and "Pony Boy," and the Girls of the Golden West will offer "Ridin' Down the Trail to Arizona." The Westerners also will give their version of the "Bugle Call Rag" and Tom, Dick and Harry, vocal trio, will be heard in "There's a Hole in the Old Oaken Bucket."

Smart little boys and girls will skip along in Easter parades in miniature replicas of chic clothes for grown-ups.

Small Mary will be cute as can be in a small-waisted, full-skirted, tight-bodied dress—really a miniature of the schoolgirl frock her older sister is wearing and loving. Or, if Mary is a plump little girl instead of a thin, long-legged one, she may grace the Easter parade in a slim-streamlined frock with a matching bolero or a neatly fitted jacket.

Her younger brother undoubtedly will be in a suave topcoat of the same material as Dad's, cut just as manly, too, even to the slit at the back. Under it he'll probably wear a Rugby suit with short shorts, a matching coat and socks. Little boys no longer think shorts are sissy and therefore insist upon wearing knickers.

In party as well as play and school togs, prints are widely used. Checks and plaids and diagonal stripes are as popular in the children's department as in the adult's. Small floral and geometric patterns are best for daytime with large floral motifs saved for dress-up.

COURT UPHOLDS SCHOOL BOARD ON MANDAMUS

(Special To The Lima News)
VAN WERT, April 7—A decision in favor of the Van Wert school board of education has been made by Judge E. F. Ferguson in the mandamus suit instigated in the court of common pleas by H. J. Beining and others, involving the transfer of real estate from Hoaglin-Jackson school district to the Ottoville district, Putnam-co.

The case was filed last October 21 after the county board tabled indefinitely a petition requesting the transfer of 140 acres in section 28, Jackson-tp. Signers of the petition represented 75 per cent of the electors in the territory affected.

In rendering the opinion, Judge Ferguson sustained the demurrer of the board, which claimed no cause of action. The court held that the petition for transfer was filed after July 1, 1938, the date fixed by state law in which county boards must file their plan of organization with the state educational director.

The court further held that the board was without authority to transfer, and if modifications of the adopted county organization plan were made, the change would be under recommendations of the state director.

BREAKS INTO JAIL
ROSEBURG, Ore., April 7 — (INS)—Footsore and weary, Jack Hurst, 18-year-old hitch hiker, was disappointed to find the doors of the city hall locked. Confronted with the problem of having no place to sleep, he smashed a window, climbed in and proceeded to make himself comfortable for the night in a vacant cell block. Next day, City Recorder A. J. Geddes, Ferguson officially prevailed on the youth of the board, which claimed no cause of action. The court held days in the city jail.
