WOMAN SOLVING OHIO DEMOCRATS' DEFICIT PROBLEM

COLUMBUS, O., April 8 (INS)—Faced with a deficit of $27,000 after the November campaign, the Ohio Democratic party was having trouble collecting it until it was decided to see what a woman could do—with surprising results.

The right person for the right job is one of the factors of success in any undertaking and Miss Josephine Saul of Columbus appears to fill that bill judging from the encouraging reports emanating from Democratic headquarters.

According to Arthur L. Limbach, of New Philadelphia, who took over the job of state chairman when Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati was nominated for governor, the deficit has shrunk to $18,000 since last November.

Since Feb. 1 Miss Saul has been working in Cuyahoga and Franklin counties getting true Democrats to kick in for the good of the dear old party and check books have been brought into play at a heartening rate.

Where did this 27-year-old woman develop such a technique for hastening the untying of purse strings?

Well, in the first place she is well-known to Democrat politicians. She worked in Democratic for 18 months when Francis "Big Frank" Poulson was chairman.

Before that she was in charge of Congressman Stephen Young's campaign in Franklin county when he was a candidate for governor in 1934.

She has been active generally in Democratic politics since she is old enough to vote and now she aspires to the job of Democratic national committeewoman.

She has almost decided to file next month. She would be opposed by Mrs. Mildred Jaster, present committeewoman, who is expected to be a candidate for re-election.

Miss Saul was in the collection business for seven years with her brother before going to work at NBC-Blue and NBC-Red networks at 7:30 a. m.

The assembled congregation of more than 5,000 people will join the Withrow high school choir and the Hughes high school brass quartet in Easter hymns.

President Roosevelt's broadcast schedule for April has been increased to four addresses. Three of them will come within a space of four days.

The addition is for April 17 when he is to deliver "an important message" from the national palace conference. Two of the others are on April 14, while the fourth is his World's Fair opening speech on the 30th.

All networks will carry all the addresses.

Change in the World's Fair salute via NBC, CBS and MBS for Sunday makes Crown Prince Gustav Adolf of Sweden the speaker instead of King Gustav V.

CONQUEST ANSWERS EVERY TREATY OF DEMOCRATIC POWERS

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER (Copyright, 1933)

LONDON, April 8 (INS)—Albania today is the dictators' contemptuous answer to the democracies. Informed opinion here holds it is disastrous.

"Every time you make a pact, and make a quest," was the reply of Premier Mussolini and Chancellor Hitler to Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's Anglo-Polish pact—and this is the meaning of Italy's crushing invasion of the tiny Adriatic country.

By this move the axis has gone a long way toward nullifying the initially strong impression made by Britain's and Poland's promise mutually to defend one another.

Diplomatic circles consider that Italy once she intends to stay in the axis, while Britain by doing nothing against aggression in the Mediterranean has reawakened the fears of all small nations that it would be better to capitulate to the dictators than depend upon the undependable democracies.

Britain, however, declined to intervene because she still clings to the hope that eventually Premier Mussolini can be detached from the axis.

Deep resentment is expressed here, first because the Albanian coup has disturbed several highly placed persons' week ends, second because the "wretched Albanians" had the bad taste to fight back and thus render it more difficult to shrug off their conflict, and third and most serious because Mussolini is now making it almost impossible for the British to continue to woe him.

The effective gains of the axis from the conquest of Albania are much greater than its dimensions of the country indicate.

Military experts believed that it is aimed primarily at Rumania. The Italian occupation of Albania immobilizes Rumania's allies in the Balkan entente, Yugoslavia and Greece, and threatens Turkey.

Thus Rumania is rendered much less capable of defending herself and Rumanian oil remains the greatest and most valuable prize for both Italy and Germany.

The Albanian coup has brought to the foreground a discussion which Mussolini can possibly be weaned from Hitler, and the best informed circles in London now consider Chamberlain's efforts in that direction have become futile.

They have developed a fascinating new theory: Hitler deliberately incited Mussolini to make the Albanian move, hoping that somehow a general war would come therefrom. This because Hitler feels Mussolini can only be defeated upon to stick with the policy of Italy first goes to war with England or France and then calls for help from Germany.

Mussolini is believed here now that he is in the street—so he parked it on the sidewalk."
