

Taylor And Frances Dee To Do "Broadway Bill" Monday

Pair Teamed For Radio Theatre Program At 9 P. M.; Irene Castle Will Be Guest On Cantor Show

Robert Taylor and Frances Dee act together for the first time when they appear in "Broadway Bill," a drama of horse-racing, on the Radio Theatre Monday. Presenting acting combinations that have not occurred on the screen is a specialty of the Radio Theatre.

Robert Taylor's last appearance on the hour, that's broadcast over WABC at 9:00 p. m. was in 1937 when he did "Magnificent Obsession" with Irene Dunne.

In "Broadway Bill," Taylor takes the part of Dan Brooks who has turned down a "stuffed-shirt" job in his father-in-law's box factory, to make his way in the world of horse-flesh. The only member of the Higgins' family who is sympathetic with his ambitions is his sister-in-law, Alice (Frances Dee), who openly admires his independence.

Irene Castle, whose life with Vernon Castle is the subject of one of Hollywood's newest and most exciting films starring Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire, will tell Eddie Cantor's radio audience all about it when she appears on the Caravan Monday at 7:30 p. m.

Traveling more than 7,000 miles during the past two weeks on a lecture tour and broadcasting from Chicago and Hollywood, Dorothy Thompson, brilliant news commentator on the Hour of Charm heard Mondays over WEAF from 9:00 to 9:30 p. m., will be back in New York for her broadcast, Monday.

While on the road Miss Thompson was a guest speaker at the invitation of the Modern Forum. Her broadcasts from Chicago and Hollywood were picked up by the four of Charles Spitalny and his all-girl orchestra, who simultaneously were making stage appearances and broadcasting from Buffalo, N. Y., and Warren, O. Spitalny and his aggregation also returned to New York this week, where they will again join forces with Miss Thompson in the NBC studios.

Cosmopolitan Switzerland, placid neighbor of restless nations, will be saluted on the Carnation Contented program with musical typical of the Alpine region during the broadcast Monday from 10:00 to 10:30 p. m. over WEAF. Mabel Weher and the orchestra will play "Sechslauten Marsch" and an Italian-Swiss melody of "Mama Mia Daruni Cento Lire," "Eta un Bell Luredi," "LI nverno Le Pastato," "Quattro Cavai Che Trotano" and "Tonia Rosina." The Continental Quartet will sing "Beim Sonnenwirt ist a Hochzeit" and "O Meim Heimatland" and the Lullaby Lady will be heard in "Ribaupierre." Webber's violin solo will be the traditional Swiss folk tune, "Vo Mine Berg." Miss Scheide, who is California's sunshine and warm weather are turning the attention of the Al Peace Gang to spring again, even though they have already saluted it, for on their program Monday from 8 to 8:30 p. m., on WEAF, Elmer Blurt will be peddling "April Showers Umbrellas" and Everett West will sing "I'm Falling in Love with Someone." After that, we can all look for the Hoff flowers.

Carl Hoff undoubtedly was planning a bit of comedy of his own when he chose "Hurry for Spinach" and "Step Up and Shake My Hand" as musical selections. Well, he likes spinach!

Highlights of the saga of baseball, first played one hundred years ago this spring in Cooperstown, New York, by Abner Doubleday and his young friends, will be presented in a series of dramatic episodes by Cavalcade of America, Monday evening at 8 p. m., over WABC.

G. O. P. OFFERS RECOVERY PLAN

Plea Shares Attention With Hopkins' Appeal To Private Capital

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Republican demand that congress lead the nation "back to recovery" shared attention today with a statement from Secretary Hopkins urging increased entrance of private capital into productive business.

While Rep. Martin (R-Mass.), the minority floor leader, was offering a 12-point business program, Hopkins said last night in a radio message read by an assistant: "We know that stimulation of recovery rests primarily upon resumption of the flow of private capital into productive enterprise. It has been this rise of investment funds — this willingness of business men to venture into new fields — that has supported a rising national income, increased our national wealth and provided jobs in the past."

Martin declared in a statement issued thru the Republican national committee that the only administrative action to encourage business since a speech by Hopkins two months ago was a recommendation against increasing social security taxes.

Contending that administration leaders were "born by conflicting opinions" over business improvement, Martin proposed that members of congress support any legislation which would: 1. Keep the United States out of war. 2. Cut unnecessary spending. 3. Repeat the undistributed corporate earnings tax. 4. Revise the federal tax structure. 5. Repeat the President's monetary powers. 6. Amend the Wagner labor relations to act to clarify "mutual obligations of worker and employer."

These quarters disclosed the government decreed dissolution of three propaganda units at last Friday's cabinet meeting but kept the move secret until today. In addition to Bickler's youth organization, those outlawed were the Erwin von Steinbach club and the Alsatian people's intellectual and cultural union.

Meanwhile, France was said to have urged Great Britain hurriedly to adopt military conscription as the quickest way to obtain Soviet Russian support and to insure peace. Informed French circles said Sir Robert G. Vansittart, chief diplomatic adviser to the British cabinet, took back to London such a suggestion from France for the British cabinet to consider.

TREATMENT BY PROXY FAILS

Patient Dies Despite Unique Method Of Trying To Battle Illness

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 24—(UP)—A unique medical experiment failed today. The patient died.

Louis Rich, 24, fell ill two weeks ago with influenza. A streptococcal infection developed and advanced rapidly. Physicians sought to treat it with the new drug, sulfanilamide, which has proven effective against most of the streptococcal family, but she was so weak she could not retain the drug in her stomach, nor would her blood receive it in injection.

The transfusion was made Thursday night and her temperature dropped one degree and her general condition seemed to improve. But the rally was brief. Last night she developed pneumonia in one lung and this morning she died.

Two men charged with the criminal assault of an 18-year-old Lima girl last Feb. 11 were sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus by Judge Chester Pendleton in Allen-co common pleas court Monday morning.

Judge Pendleton, sitting here from Hancock-co, in the absence of Judge Neal Lora, sentenced Milo Conner, 24, to a term of three to 20 years on his conviction by a jury on a charge of criminal assault.

Richard McGee, 29 colored, who withdrew a plea of not guilty to criminal assault and pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with criminal intent when he appeared for trial a week ago, was sentenced to a term of one to 15 years in the penitentiary.

Both were remanded to jail to await their removal to Columbus, which probably will be made Wednesday or Thursday. When asked by the court if he wished to make any statement before sentenced was passed, Conner said: "All I wish to say is I am not guilty of this offense."

The court, before passing sentence and after hearing a brief statement by Paul T. Landis, county prosecutor, in which he asked that no mercy be shown either of the defendants, briefly reviewed the facts in the records of both men could not recommend any consideration for mercy on the part of the court.

After pointing out that the statutes provided a lesser penalty in McGee's case than that of Conner, the court stated that it and the prosecuting attorney's staff would oppose all efforts of the two defendants to gain parole at the end of their minimum sentence and would recommend strongly that McGee be required to serve the same length of time as Conner. No plea for consideration of McGee's parole within the next year would be approved by the court or prosecutor, Judge Pendleton stated.

Drama Of Old West Told In "Stage Coach" At The Sigma

John Wayne And Claire Trevor Star In Epic Story; Conan Doyle's Work Showing At Quilna

Across a vast panorama of primitive splendor several thousand feet above sea level a lone stagecoach with its mixed group of passengers rocks and careens behind six galloping horses. This is the tense and thrilling background of "Stagecoach," a frontier drama of the 1880's when Indians still roamed the sagebrush, showing at the Sigma and starring John Wayne and Claire Trevor.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's "The Hound of the Baskervilles," one of literature's most shocking, spine-chilling mystery stories and the greatest of all Sherlock Holmes' astounding adventures, has been transcribed to the screen and is now showing at the Quilna.

Basile Rathbone is cast in the role of the master-mind detective and Nigel Bruce as Dr. Watson. Richard Greene and Wendy Barrie are in the supporting cast.

"Treading the path of yesterday" is that Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers' film, "The Story of Irene and Vernon Castle" current at the Ohio, dealing with those gracious years immediately preceding the World war when the Castles set the whole world dancing. This picture is now showing at the Ohio.

"Men With Wings," at the State is the glorious technicolor production telling the story of the history of aviation in the lives of three persons. Fred MacMurray, Ray Milland and Louise Campbell are the stars of this dramatic feature. "Forchy Blane in Chinatown" another in the fast moving series of newspaper stories starring Glenda Farrell in the title role is the second State feature.

A South Seas adventure story starring Bobby Breen, Ned Sparks, Irvin S. Cobb and Raymond Paige and his orchestra is now showing at the Lyric. "Hawaii Calls" is the title.

Jack Holt and Bobby Jordan are the stars of the thrilling drama, "Reformatory," also showing at the Lyric theatre.

That matchless sleuth, Sherlock Holmes, was brought to vivid life on the screen of the Quilna the Friday by the distinguished Basil Rathbone, who shares top billing with Richard Greene and Wendy Barrie in the thrilling production of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's "The Hound of the Baskervilles."

Production Chief Darryl F. Zanuck is to be congratulated for this almost uncanny astute piece of casting—Rathbone assume 15 Sherlock Holmes.

FRANCE HITS AT PROPAGANDA

Three Organizations Are Outlawed In Alsace-Lorraine Region

PARIS, April 24—(AP)—The French government struck today at German propaganda in Alsace-Lorraine by outlawing three organizations, including that of the Prussian-born autonomy leader, Hermann Bickler, for attempting to undermine French nationalism.

These quarters disclosed the government decreed dissolution of three propaganda units at last Friday's cabinet meeting but kept the move secret until today.
