LYRIC

The rivalry between a famous pilot and a student flier over a girl, forms the romantic basis of 'Sky Giant," the Lyric's exciting picture of modern aviation.

With Richard Dix sharing starring honors with Chester Morris and Joan Fontaine, the film is laid against a background of a big flying school, and reveals interesting sidelights on the training of student pilots. Harry Carey and Paul Guilfoyle play the chief supporting roles.

Carey is the strict commandant of the school and Dix his righthand man, an old-time flier with little sympathy for Carey's stern! ideas of discipline. When Carev's son, Chester Morris, comes to the school as a student, the romantic and temperamental conflict begins. The stirring climax comes during an attempted mapping flight across Alaska for a new air route to Europe, and furnishes countless new thrills in screen entertainment.

It will give your heart a lift to go down to the Lyric theatre and accomplishment that symbolizes see the comedy drama, "Little Orthe tradition of America-the phan Annie." Throbbing with the acter-whose doings in the picture are along the same lines of those
