Al Pearce To Lead Gang On Mythical Fishing Junket

Nautical Songs, Piscatorial Theme To Extend Thru Program; Billy Rose Set As Cantor Guest

Al Pearce, whose chief interest away from the microphone is fishing, runs true to type and will lead his Gang in a "Fishing" program during their WEAF broadcast Monday from 7 to 7:30.

As a special salute to the followers of Izaak Walton who will be cleaning tackle and rods this week, the piscatorial theme will run thru the entire program. Carl Hoff will lead his orchestra in a special swing arrangement of "Asleep in the Deep" and the King Sisters will return as the guest vocal group singing "Three Little Fishes," the new comedy song that is threatening to take the entire population over the dam with the "free itle fitties."

A new, surprise comedy act will be presented along with those regulars of the Gang, tenor Everett West, Kitty "Laughing Lady" O'Neil and Eb and Zeb, those two old storekeepers of Corn Center, portrayed by Pearce and Bill Wright.

The world's greatest showman will guest with the world's greatest showman Monday, when Billy Rose appears on the first New York broadcast of Eddie Cantor's Caravan, 6:30 p. m. over WABC. Ex-song writer, ex-script writer and ex-world's champion shorthand expert, Billy will tell the world about his current World's Fair project (the Aquacade, as if you didn't know) when he broadcasts on the Cantor show.

"You Are the Song in My Heart," Idabelle Firestone's recently published song introduced on the air by Margaret Speaks in a Voice of Firestone concert last September, will be sung again by the program's soprano soloist during the broadcast Monday at 7:30 p. m., over WEAF. A special arrangement by Alfred Wallenstein, conductor of the symphony orchestra, will be used. Mrs. Firestone also is composer of the program's familiar theme song, "In My Garden."

Other numbers by Miss Speaks will include Rubinstein's "Since First I Met Thee;" "Solveig's Song," from Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite," and "Air de Lea" from Debussy's "L'Enfant Prodigue." Orchestral numbers include the Introduction to Act III of Wagner's "Lohengrin" the Largo from Handel's "Xerxes," and "Viennese Musical Clocks" from Kostal's "Hary Janos."

The story of James Lee Southern to be told to the Allen Jean Girl Scouts, will be presented by Cavalcade of America, on Monday at 7 p. m., over WABC.

Agnes Moorehead will portray the role of Mrs. Low who becomes interested in a feminine youth movement (not Robert Baden-Powell, founder of the English Boy Scouts. There are scouts) will participate in the final scene of the dramatization which will depict a gathering of girl scouts at their international Chalet in Switzerland.

Other episodes of the dramatization will show how the organization has provided thousands of children with a pattern of healthful activity for their after-school hours.

Puerto Rico will be featured during the Carnation Contented program Monday from 9:00 to 9:30 p. m., over WEAF. Oval Craven, the Continentals Quartet, and Marek Weber and his orchestra will present musical favorites of the Latin-American country. Miss Craven's solo will be "Nino Querido," and the quartet will offer "Venga, Pastorcillos." Earle Tanner, tenor, and Herman Larson, baritone, will sing the traditional "Serenata de Pierrot," and Weber's violin solo will be "La Paloma." Orchestral selections will include "La Cancion del Saltado," "Los Reyes del Oriente," "El Huracano," "Las Variaciones," "Los Reynes Magos," and "El Platatan." The ensemble will conclude the program with the familiar "Hymno de Puerto Rico."

A complete, life story of one of the members of our royal aristocracy, the Beregaals of Kentucky, who devotes all energies toward eventually winning the $50,000 Presidency, has been compiled by Ronald McDougall, of the NBC script division, and, under the title of "At Ease Post," will be heard Monday from 6:30 to 10:00 p. m., over WEAF. Clem McCarthy, NBC sports commentator, will be at the microphone.

McDonagh spent long hours compiling his drama of the Preakness. A scene of early mornings, the main part of the racehorse's day, were spent at the paddock where Negro boys would smooth a sticky coating thoroughbred's back. Other time and money was spent leading over a pasture fence and getting wet feet, watching colts play and run in gay, unhampered freedom. Other information on the background of a thoroughbred's life before he leaps away from the Preakness barrier was supplied by the racing expert, James Fitzwilliam.

Ritz Brothers Run Riot In Film Due Tuesday At Lyric

"Straight, Place And Show" Title Of Comedy; Two Fine Features Close Run On Monday

Those crazy Ritz brothers go in for a little horse racing in the picture due at the Lyric Tuesday, entitled "Straight, Place and Show." By an accident they come into possession of a fine race horse and after many hilarious episodes succeed in running him.

"The Street of Missing Men" is the title of the other film opening Tuesday at the Lyric. "The Eagle and the Hawk" and "Under the Big Top" are the two features now at the Lyric.

W. C. Fields, Charlie McCarthy and Edgar Bergen head the cast in one of the season's most hilarious comedies "You Can't Cheat an Honest Man" which is now showing at the State.

"Nancy Drew, Reporter," another in the exciting series of a young girl who can get herself and others mixed up in more trouble, is the second State picture. Bonita Granville and John Litel lead the cast.

"Confessions of a Nazi Spy," the film based on the records of espionage activities in the United States recently exposed, is now showing at the Ohio. Edward G. Robinson takes the role of an FBI man who is instrumental in breaking up the ring and bringing several of the persons to trial.

A human and mighty drama of the "cop on the beat" is told in the film, "Sergeant Madden" showing at the Sigma and starring Wallace Beery. Alan Curtis, Tom Brown and Laraine Johnson are seen in the supporting cast.

Tony Martin and a fighting cowboy and Gloria Stuart a lovely eastern lady meet and fall in love in the film, "Winner Take All" which is current at the Quilna.

Sidney Toler in his new role of Charlie Chan is seen in "Charlie Chan in Honolulu" the other Quilna feature. Phyllis Brooks, Eddie Collins and Claire Dodd are in the supporting cast.

QUILNA

Action-packed pictures have received such fine receptions at movie box offices everywhere of late that Hollywood is continuing its policy of bringing to the screen more and more action films. Latest of this type of movie entertainment is "Winner Take All," a unique boxing story at the Quilna theatre. Tony Martin is featured as a battling Montana cowboy, with Gloria Stuart as his gorgeous girl manager.

Also prominent in the cast is the famous Gambini family, headed again by the inimitable Henry Armetta and including Inez Palange, Johnnie Pirrone, Jr., Betty Greco and Eleanor Virzie. This lovable screen menage was last seen in "Road Demon," and it is thru one of the customers in his popular delicatessen that Papa Gambini becomes involved in the fight game.

Various cities, New York, Shanghai, Port Said, have been called "the melting pot of the world."

But on one sound stage during production of "Charlie Chan in Honolulu," showing at the Quilna, was a group so cosmopolitan that its like could not be equalled in a weeks' search of any of the world's great seaports.

Curiously enough, this group represented the crew of an American steamship—the S. S. Susan B. Jennings, scene of much of the action in the picture.

With the passengers, as portrayed by Phyllis Brooks, Claire Dodd, Richard Lane, George Zucco and others, they are all under suspicion of murder and Charlie Chan has quite a time sifting this motley array before discovering the real culprit.

LYRIC

Old and young hearts together will thrill to "Under the Big Top," now at the Lyric theatre, for not only does it contain some of the most exciting circus scenes yet filmed, but there is a different twist to the story which will please the fans.

"Under the Big Top" concerns two brothers, both trapeze experts, who love the same girl. The girl, Penny, called "The Flying Penny," is the greatest aerialist in the world, and her destiny is determined by old Sara Post, the circus owner, who rules love out of her life. But Penny falls in love with Pablo, and when Sara fires them both, Ricardo leaves with them, and a struggle ensues in his heart between his love for Penny and his hatred for his brother for winning her.

Just when Ricardo plans to go away because he cannot endure being with the lovers, Sara falls ill, and Penny decides that they all must go back to the circus.

A thrilling climax is enacted 50 feet in the air as Ricardo, Pablo, and Penny go thru their death-defying act, and Ricardo chooses a terrifying way to settle all their problems.

Jack LaRue is excellent as Ricardo, and completely wins the sympathy of the audience as the man who is torn between love and hate, and whose strange sense of loyalty causes his downfall. Anne Nagel is a pretty Penny, and delivers an excellent characterization.

Marjorie Main as Sara, Grant Richards as Pablo, and Charlene Wyatt as the young Penny turn in trouper performances, and others outstanding in the cast include Betty Compson, George Cleveland, and Herbert Rawlinson.

SIGMA

Son of a Kansas City policeman, Wallace Beery plays his first police characterization in the title role of "Sergeant Madden," story of the New York police at the Sigma theatre.

With Beery typifying one of "New York's Finest," Alan Curtis appears as his son, a rookie cop who attempts to win promotion by "smart" short cuts and thus runs afoul of the law he is sworn to represent. Then it becomes the father's duty to put a halt to the criminal career of his own son.

Tom Brown is seen as Beery's adopted son who idolizes his foster-brother but is true to the ideals of his foster-father. And Laraine Johnson is the Irish waif whom Beery makes his adopted daughter. After she marries Curtis she finds herself unwittingly sharing the life of a criminal.

In the supporting cast are a host of outstanding featured names, among them Fay Holden as Beery's wife, Marc Lawrence as racketeer "Piggy" Ceders, David Gorcey of the "Dead End Kids" as a young petty thief, Marion Martin as Grocey's sister, Donald Haines, Ben Welden and Etta McDaniel.

OHIO

Twenty years later Edward G. Robinson is serving his United States as he wanted to in the World war.

During the World war Robinson enlisted in the U. S. navy, but never actually went abroad, as the armistice intervened.

The years passed and people began to wonder who had won the war after all. An Austrian house painter with a fanatic's ability to sway mobs got hold of the old Indian good luck emblem, the swastika, and began preaching the doctrine of world supremacy for Germany.

Robinson watched the Nazis take Austria, then Czecho-Slovakia. Then like other peaceful, liberty-loving Americans he was amazed to learn that the clutching fingers of Nazism had reached out for the United States and that for four years the insidious work of the Nazis had flourished unhampered by government officials and private citizens because, unlike militaristic foreign nations, the United States was not spy conscious.

Therefore, Robinson was delighted when he was cast as the star in the photoplay, "Confession of a Nazi Spy," a fictional story, at the Ohio inspired by the recent Nazi spy ring trials in New York, Los Angeles and the Panama Canal Zone. In it, Robinson plays a G-Man who smashes a web of Nazi espionage.

"Now," he says, "I feel I am serving my country, and there is more to it than just the personal satisfaction in knowing that I am having a part in awakening America to the scourge of Nazism—I am doing it for my young son."

"Manny to me, is symbolical of the youth of America. The dangers of Nazism must be removed for all time; he and they must grow up in the free land of their forefathers, unmenaced by dictatorism, totalitarianism and the constant threat of war. I believe 'Confessions of a Nazi Spy' will do more to accomplish that purpose than guns and bloodshed."

Daily, 10,000 birds and animals are killed on British roads.

Raindrops sometimes require an hour to reach the earth.
