Man's Failing: Instalment Buying

The time element entered strongly in the used car bought recently by Virgil Ash, 21, Deerfield, it was revealed today in superior court.

The vari-colored deals made by Ash, who was found guilty of obtaining merchandise under false pretenses, were told by Henry H. Behnke, assistant district attorney.

Ash bought his car at $15 down, $224 left to pay in instalments, Behnke said. Lacking cash, he stole license plates, recently, was caught and sentenced to serve 30 days time in county jail.

Prior to that, on May 8, he made a deal to buy five tires and tubes worth $63.20 on time from Donald H. Gallagher, at the Black Eagle Oil co., 1039 E. Washington ave. He told Gallagher, Behnke said, that the car was paid for, that he was working and lived in Madison. Gallagher had him brought to court when he found all claims false.

Judge Roy H. Proctor fined him $50 and costs or 30 days today. The time element entered again when Ash failed to pay.

La Argentina, Argentina's new training ship, which will carry a complement of 650 officers and men, was taken from the drydock in England to Argentina by only 304 men.

Jack Pearl Seeks 'Old Love' Wanted: One Stage Career 'With Pathos'

NEW YORK (U.P.)—An axiom of the theater is that every comedian wants to play tragedy.

That's the reason you haven't heard the punch line, "Was your dead, Charlie?" emanate from your loudspeaker in the last 16 months Jack Pearl thinks he is as good a actor as Paul Muni and intends to prove it.

The dialect comedian who has appeared in musical comedies and revues on Broadway since 1919 was a standard feature on the airwaves for seven years. But when his contract expired in January, 1938, he refused to sign another. Since then Pearl has had more than $500,000 worth of contracts offered to him to return. The answer always has been the same "No."

Pearl had his first taste of a dramatic play in December, 1937, when he appeared in "One Flight Down." It should have stayed there. After touring for three weeks it folded. Since then he has been trying to find another.

"After a man gets enough money to keep him from poverty, he'll go back to his first love and mine is the theater," the curly-haired comedian explained today. "I want to be a dramatic actor. I have agents looking for a play. I want something logical or philosophical; something with a pretense to life.

"In the meantime I've taken the next best thing—a musical, 'Yokel Boy,' which Lew Brown is producing."

The show goes into rehearsal next week and it marks Pearl's first appearance on Broadway since "Pardon My English" in 1932.

"But my contract with Brown calls for at least one scene with pathos," he said. "As a matter of fact, I've always had that in my show contracts."

And that, it turned out, is why "Baron Munchausen" is no longer telling his fabulous stories on the air.

"Radio," he said, "is a great form of entertainment and I'd go back if I could do comedy for one scene and then some drama in the next. Today, everyone on the air is a comedian and the announcers, the orchestra leaders, why, the stooges are bigger than the principals!"

"But as long as I was selling the sponsor's product, they wouldn't let me change my formula," Pearl said. "In the old days you had to have ability, durability, and stability; today you need a good Crossley rating or good B. O. appeal."

At any rate Pearl is coming back to Broadway which will make many people happy. Maybe next year he'll find that drama, if he does, and his dramatic ability is anywhere nearly as good as his comic efforts, beware, Mr. Muni, beware!

Dr. Huegel Sees Need for Safer Playgrounds

Safe playgrounds for children's play still are needed in American cities, Dr. Raymond W. Huegel said today in a letter to Madison members of the National Recreation association, of which he is Madison sponsor.

Dr. Huegel saw reason to "rejoice over the strides the playground and recreation movement has made during the last 30 years," but added, "yet there is much still to be done."

The association, founded in 1906 by Luther Halsey Gulick, Theodore Roosevelt and others, is the national clearing house for community recreation in the United States.

There are 9,618 outdoor playgrounds in the United States, according to the association's latest report. Among facilities developed are 3,400 horseshoe courts, 3,900 baseball diamonds, 8,300 softball diamonds, 11,000 tennis courts, 3,800 indoor recreation centers, 1,400 wading pools and 1,100 swimming pools. All are public facilities.

Burglars Get $700 in Thefts at Beloit

BELOIT (U.P.)—Police today sought burglars who entered two Beloit college fraternities and two residences May 14 and escaped with clothing, jewelry, radios, and typewriters valued at more than $700. Their checkup revealed losses of $282 at the Sigma Pi fraternity and $108 at Tau Kappa Epsilon. Jewelry taken from the home of Dr. H. E. Burger amounted to $250. The home of C. A. Holcombe was looted of jewelry worth $70.

Religious Group Opposes School Flag Salute Bill

Opposition to the assembly-approved bill providing for a weekly flag salute in the schools of Wisconsin was voiced today by Jehovah's Witnesses in letters to legislators.

"The bill has no provision for exemption of those who conscientiously hold and believe that the saluting of a flag is a violation of the law of Almighty God," the letter declares.

Man's Failing: Instalment Buying

The time element entered strongly in the used car bought recently by Virgil Ash, 21, Deerfield, it was revealed today in superior court.

The vari-colored deals made by Ash, who was found guilty of obtaining merchandise under false pretenses, were told by Henry H. Behnke, assistant district attorney.

Ash bought his car at $15 down, $224 left to pay in instalments, Behnke said. Lacking cash, he stole license plates, recently, was caught and sentenced to serve 30 days time in county jail.

Prior to that, on May 8, he made a deal to buy five tires and tubes worth $63.20 on time from Donald H. Gallagher, at the Black Eagle Oil co., 1039 E. Washington ave. He told Gallagher, Behnke said, that the car was paid for, that he was working and lived in Madison. Gallagher had him brought to court when he found all claims false.

Judge Roy H. Proctor fined him $50 and costs or 30 days today. The time element entered again when Ash failed to pay.

Buck Describes Life in India

Prof. Philo M. Buck, head of the University of Wisconsin comparative literature department, described natives and their lives in the villages of India at the dinner meeting of the young Men's Division, Madison Wisconsin foundation, Monday night in the Heidelberg Hofbrau.

Buck was born in India and came to the United States as a young man to receive his educational training. He has returned to India three times during the past 15 years.

John Marshall reported on the division's clean-up campaign and thanked city departments and institutions for their cooperation. It was announced that the division will hold a spring formal dance June 10 at the Maple Bluff Country club.

GOP Victory in '40 Possible, Pearson Says

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (U.P.)—A Republican presidential victory in 1940 "seems almost assured if Democrats continue fighting among themselves," Drew Pearson, Washington columnist, told a Rotary club convention Monday night.

Pearson said Thomas E. Dewey, New York district attorney, is the outstanding possibility of the GOP nomination. He said President Roosevelt cannot obtain nomination of an outright conservative and will not approve a conservative but might be content with "a middle of the road, such as Governor Lloyd Stark of Missouri."

Speaker Asks Vandenberg for President

MILWAUKEE (U.P.)—A campaign to obtain support of Wisconsin Republicans for U. S. Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan as the GOP candidate for president in 1940 with Thomas E. Dewey, New York prosecutor, as his running mate was underway today.

Herbert W. Koch, chairman of the Bay View Republican club and former vice chairman of the Milwaukee County Republican committee, began the Wisconsin boom for Vandenberg and Dewey in a speech before the Bay View club Monday night.

He described the Michigan senator as "a true American statesman, a man of experience and ability, with broadminded views on capital and labor relations."

He said removal of the New Deal administration from power was "imperative" if "America is to be saved."

"America for the Americans is a thing of the past," he said. "Our relief-rolls are daily increasing and our present unemployment conditions with more than 12,000,000 out of work is given no consideration. A wasteful administration, eager to enter foreign entanglements, is leading America through a darker and more dangerous valley every day."

He discounted much of the presidential boom in behalf of Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio, saying it developed chiefly "just because his father was president."
