Benchley And Orchestra To Present Another Travelogue; Johnny Green Will Join In Singing

A newspaper columnist and a noted music authority will put on their "thinking caps" for the benefit of those stalwarts, John Kieran and Franklin P. Adams, when the board of experts meets during the Information Please program Tuesday, from 7:30 to 8:00 p. m., over WJZ. The guest experts are H. I. Phillips, conductor of the syndicated column, "The Sun Dial," and Deems Taylor, music critic, commentator and composer. Taylor will be making his second appearance on the program. Clifton Fadiman, as usual, will be on hand with his unpredictable questions designed to "stump the experts."

Robert Benchley, astride his "hounding brocmstick" will sweep across WJZ for another mythical visit to a far-off land during the third broadcast of his new Melody and Madness series on Tuesday from 8 to 8:30 p. m. Benchley, noted humorist, author and critic, will give his listeners a graphic account of the people, scenery and activity such as never could exist in the place being visited. In addition to the "travelogue" Benchley and his dramatic players will present another of their short and snappy mystery skits. Actie Shaw and his orchestra will entertain musically.
