After 15 years, Paul Whiteman introduces a new treatment of "Rhapsody in Blue" as Al Gallodoro begins the famous solo clarinet run, playing a Lucite instrument made of transparent, flexible material. After extensive tone tests, Whiteman plans to use it at the George Gershwin Memorial concert over CBS network Sunday, July 9, at 1 p. m. The clarinet has a peculiar reedy quality which lends itself admirably to the Rhapsody's difficult

I Wish They'd Hit,' Star Pitcher Moans

DENVER - (U.P.) - Gus Slocum a softhall pitcher, wondered today just what it takes to win a game. Monday night he pitched 11 in nings of no-hit, no-run baseball and his team lost 1-0 when a runner who had walked, scored on an error.

A week ago he pitched another no hitter and lost by the same score after faming 18 men. "I wish somebody would get a hit," he said. "It might help me to win."
