

Star Alice Faye Pops Keaton In Face With Pie

Actress Gets Score Evened With Buster

Judy Garland Put Thru Heavy Routine By Her Personal Trainer

HOLLYWOOD, July 15.—(INS)—Alice Faye couldn't resist the temptation to throw a custard pie and get even with Buster Keaton. For several hours on the set of "Hollywood Cavalcade," story of early motion picture days, Buster had been heaving pies at her. Then a close up was needed and a makeup man stood ready with a pie to retouch Alice with a little more realism. Buster came up, too, which proved to be his mistake. Miss Faye grabbed the pie from the makeup man and scored a perfect hit at close range on Buster's dead pan. "I simply couldn't resist," said Alice as she apologized to Keaton.

Many male stars in Hollywood have personal trainers, but Judy Garland probably is the first feminine celebrity to have one. Judy's trainer is Bobbie Koshay, 1928 Olympic swimmer. She's also the star's stand-in in "Babes in Arms." At night and on days away from the studio she puts Judy thru a vigorous schedule. Although swimming and diving head the program, Miss Koshay, to avert monotony, also includes tennis, badminton and hiking. It should be an amusing scene if they ever succeed in getting it. In "On Your Toes" Alan Hale is asking the stammering Eddie Albert some questions with machine-gun rapidity, and getting only "da" (yes in Russian) for an answer. Frank McHugh is standing open-mouthed. His cue comes. But he's forgotten his line and acts like a fish out of water. "What do you want me to do, judge you on that cue?" asks Albert. "Yes," chimed in Hale looking at McHugh with a scowl. "How about a little cooperation from some of these amateur actors the casting office keeps sending in?" "Just a minute," interrupted Director Ray Enright. "You, all, were about eight cues ahead on that line. Let's try it again. With a little luck maybe we can get this scene in a couple of days." McHugh had the laugh. Hale the chagrin.

That part of Fostoria lying within Hancock county enumerates 412, an increase of 31 over last year. The total enumeration of children, 5 to 17 years inclusive, is listed this year at 8,613 as compared with 8,500 in last year's report. This year's report shows 1,749 boys and 4,241 girls, a difference of 155 in favor of the boys. Last year's reports also showed more boys than girls, but so many more, an excess of 16.

Grouch Club Convention To Be Carried On Air Sunday

"Sour Grapes Of Wrath" Will Be Read From Legion Parley In Giant Hollywood Bowl

Aided by various American Legion posts in the 20th district, the Grouch Club will hold its first annual convention in the Hollywood Bowl Sunday, a half-hour portion of which will be broadcast at 5:30 p. m. over WEAF. Setting a precedent for sponsored radio programs, the keynote of the gripe session will be a reading of the "Sour Grapes of Wrath," in the form of telegrams from national grouch members unable to attend the conclave. Leon Leonardi and his orchestra will massacre a musical number dedicated to convention-goers: "You Don't Know How You Can Suffer." Both "Woolly" will feature a new arrangement of "Melancholy Mood," while Walter Toddy, Phil Kramer, Mary Milford, and Arthur Q. Bryan will be on hand to give their all in an effort to make the world a grimmer and grouchier place in which to live.

Convention ceremonies begin and end with patriotic demonstrations by various 20th district American Legion Posts who dedicate themselves and 25,000 conventioners to the fundamentals of American Liberty and Democracy. Henry Aldrich, the incorrigible, will find himself entangled with berries, burglars and bicycles in the third episode of "The Aldrich Family" summer series, to be heard over WEAF Sunday at 6 p. m. Life is growing steadily more complicated for Henry, played by redheaded Ezra Stone. All he has to do is make enough money to pay for two broken bicycles and buy a new one, and win two bills, but he is financially able to take his best girl on a house party, if she doesn't accept an invitation from another boy in the meantime. Henry's only source of income at the moment is the berry business, at which he gets paid ten cents a quart and picks at the rate of one quart an hour. A better optimist and opportunist than financier, Henry has no doubt that he will accomplish his aim, even though he encounters a gang of local building racketeers in the mean time. He engages in the thankless task of teaching the young Hollywood idea how to shoot, will be the hero of "Kid Star," an amusing play by Harold Anderson which the Radio Guild plans to present over WJZ Sunday at 6:30 p. m. The film star in the story has had his head completely turned because of his premature fame and is in danger of sinking back into oblivion. The efforts of his general factotum, guide, philosopher and friend to keep the juvenile from making a fool of himself lay the groundwork for a highly diverting climax to the tale. Five doughnut waitresses from the New York World's Fair who teach dunking on the side will occupy their day off Sunday trying to spell down a group of acrobats from Atlantic City's Million Dollar Pier. Paul Wing, spelling master, will put the opposing teams thru their paces of WEAF at 4:30 p. m. The waitresses, all employed at the Mayflower Donut Restaurant are Bunny Teichman, Minnie Callaway, Winifred Weiss, Celia Healy and Rhoda Wright; the acrobats, Forest Glenn, Harry Hartnett, Charles Lane, Frank Sealise and Charles Ulan.

Youthful Van Alexander will bring his singing orchestra to the Bancroft program over WEAF Sunday at 6:30 p. m. featuring hit tunes of his own composition. These will include the sensation-ally successful song, "A Tisket, A Tasket," which sold more than 250,000 records. Alexander already had won his laurels as a song writer, pianist and arranger when he organized his own orchestra, and as a result it was immediately put under contract by the Victor Recording Co. Thus, the orchestra's music reached the public ear thru records before it made a single personal appearance. Charlie McCarthy, with the cheers of New York World's Fair crowds still ringing in his little wooden ears, will settle down to his routine of greeting screen beauties Sunday at 7 p. m. on the program over WEAF. The visiting beauty of the day will be Andrea Leeds. Apart from her conversation with Charlie, Miss Leeds will do a dramatic sketch with Don Ameche. Another guest will be Charles Irwin, comedian of screen and radio. 3 RINGS VANISH FROM HOME; PROBE STARTS

(Lima News Bureau) KENTON, July 16.—County officials today are investigating the possible theft of three valuable rings from the Tom Iretton home, near Dola. Mrs. Iretton first reported the loss Thursday, when she failed to find the jewelry where she had left it on the dining room table. Altho she had not left the house during the day, it is believed that someone entered the home while she was in an upstairs room. A complete search of the house and yard removed most of the possibility of misplacement of the rings. One, a diamond, was valued at $350 by its owner.

Gehl was arrested by police Monday evening after his machine figured in a collision with another in the business section. Book Reviews

Books Reviewed Here May Be Obtained At The Lima Public Library, Main Library

By MARY LATHROP Lima Public Library Staff THE WEB AND THE ROCK. By Thomas Wolfe. Harper and Brothers. $3.00. Quite autobiographical, this posthumous book of Thomas Wolfe is an outpouring of his own emotions and reactions. As fiction it is the story of George Webber from boyhood days in a southern town to life as a writer in New York. There his search for meaning in life remained unsatisfied and unhappiness in a love affair led him to European travel. Thomas Wolfe's genius and exceptional power in writing are evident again. This book contains and magnifies all of his virtues and his faults. Where it is good it is alone with excitement and power. But good or bad he keeps you reading. He was a writer of magnificent fragments, imperfectly joined together.

CARUSO'S ISLAND IN THE CARIBBEAN. By Heath Bowman. Bobbs, Merrill Company $3.50.

The tropical paradise here described is the small island of Tobago at the southern end of the Caribbean West Indies. From a furnished country house on a hilltop where they lived for a season in comparative magnificence, the Bowmans looked out on coral sands, explored the jungle, watched the birds of paradise dance, and made acquaintances among the English planters. A sketch of the island's history is included and an account of its economic and social situation. It is a pleasant book and generally informative.

HERE LIES. By Dorothy Parker. Viking Press $3.00.

Dorothy Parker writes the kind of slight, unassuming stories which are remembered long after many more pretentious ones have been forgotten. Perhaps no other English writer uses the short story form so perfectly. Her stories are not chopped off novels; they are perfect in themselves and an extra paragraph or an extra word would destroy the design. This new volume contains all her short stories to date. "Soldier of the Republic," a new story about Spain is a direct and passionate story and probably the finest in the book.

Inbody, Blanchard-tp, were the only ones in the county to grow the wheat this year.
