Greatest writers for radio are women. One of the best known and highest salaried is Edith Meiser, pictured here, who writes "The Life and Love of Dr. Susan." She wrote "Sherlock Holmes" for many years for NBC, and wrote radio scripts for Helen Haves. The daughter of a newspaperman, she was on the stage as a singer of character songs before taking up radio

Verona Postmaster Arrested

Otto J. Petraske, removed from office last spring as postmuster at Verena, was arrested Monday on a federal court indictment charging embezzlement of postoffice funds.

He pleaded not guilty before U. S. Commissioner J. J. McMan-amy and was released on $1,500 bond. U. S. Atty. John J. Boyle estimated the total of Petraske's ulleged misappropriations at $1,000 lo $1,200.

Seven other arrests on indict-ments returned here by the federal grand jury June 29 were announced today.

Lyle L. Lenth, salesman for the Sherman Nursery co., Charles City, Iowa, is in fall at La Crosse in default of bond on a charge of mail fraud in connection with alleged collection of advance commissions on fake orders for nursery stock. He was arrested at La Farge, and was released on bond.

Four persons were arrested on conspiracy charges in connection with Work Projects Administration projects, and two others fo alleged thefts of bank funds.

Norman G. Long and Esther E. Long, Eau Claire, officers of the Rescued as bond pending appearance on a charge of conspiracy to pay payrolls on a WPA project. The company had a contract with Eau Claire county for electrical wiring of a new courthouse. The indictment alleges they submitted a payroll representing payment of foreman, whereas, it is claimed, Bergduff was paid only $14.56.

McCoy, arrested at Tomahawk and released on bond, are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government by using WPA labor for their own benefit.

Henry Olaf Dahl, bookkeeper at the Security State bank, Baldwin, is accused of having abstracted approximately $8,000 of bank funds by means of falsified en-

Elmer Tranton, assistant cash-ier of the First National bank at Rib Lake, was arrested at Merrill on a charge of misappropriating about $3,800 by juggling accounts of depositors.

Both Dahl and Tranton fur-
