"Efficiency Age" Effects To Be Studied In Oboler Drama

Betty Caine Will Carry Entire Burden Of Plot At 8:30 p. m. Broadcast On Saturday
Betty Caine, who has been co-starred with her husband, Raymond Edward Johnson, in such striking Arch Oboler dramas as "The Ugliest Man in the World" and "The Luck of Mark Street," will carry the entire burden of a plot for the first time when she has the lead in "Efficiency Island" over WEAF Saturday at 8:30 p. m.
This eerie tale is laid in the future when straight-line factory methods of production have reached perfection and workmen, chained for generations to the machine by their pay checks, seem to have lost the will to fight for better working conditions.
The problem of what the assembly line will do to humanity in the long run has vexed economists and sociologists since the start of the industrial era. It will be given a new and surprising twist by the young author-producer.
