Guy Lombardo's Band To Feature Sweet Music Friday

First Nighter Program To Give Gay Romance Of Young Hearts; Fall Offerings Are Being Announced

Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians, one of the outstanding "sweet music" bands of the day, will be heard Friday at 9 p. m. over WEAF, with a program featuring "Over the Rainbow." Lombardo, who says that requests indicate the return of "sweet music" and the decline of "swing," is scheduled to make two films for Hollywood sometime during the winter.

Another tale is plucked from the story-book-bag of the Old Ranger on the Death Valley Days program at 8:30 p. m. over WEAF. The old prospector promises a story in which justice is served in the end in a most startling manner, and romance adds its appeal to the story.

A gay romance of young hearts and light cares will be told on the First Nighter program over WABC at 8:30 p. m. The stars of the program present a new angle to the "boy meets girl, boy loses girl, boy gets girl" theme, so well known to radio and motion picture fans.

Miscellaneous notes on fall programs . . . Lou Gehrig and Babe Ruth both are being groomed for a winter commercial series which will be on the networks in mid-afternoon . . . Hedda Hopper will debut Oct. 1 with a screen chatter show a la Jimmy Fiddler . . . Loretta Young headlines the first two "Silver Theatre" programs which return to the air Oct. 8 . . . The heavyweight bout between Tony Galento and Lou Nova, postponed because of the latter's cold, will be heard over WJZ next Friday at 9 p. m.

Helen Haves will be co-starred in "Peter Ibbetson" with Orson Wells over WABC Sunday . . . Phil Harris has been signed once more as batoneer on Jack Benny's fall program . . . Kenny Baker, however, will be missing . . . One of the violinists in Kay Kyser's orchestra brought along a spare fiddle when they went to the coast and is getting most of the movie stars to autograph it.

A program which is proving to be quite popular is the 15-minute "This is the Fair" nightly broadcast which interviews many of the fair visitors, most of them from Ohio . . . Sport fans of this area are unusually blessed with competent and interesting sports announcers and programs, namely WLW's "Inside of Sports" program at 6:45 p. m., the same station's Baker's sports final at 10:45 p. m., and WJR's Stevenson's sport broadcast at 10:30 p. m.

Ohio And Sigma To Offer New Programs On Saturday

First Shows "The Women," "I Stole A Million" At Latter; Quilna Has Double Bill For Prevue

Two Warner theatres—the Ohio and the Sigma—will have new pictures on their screens Saturday while the Quilna will have two new features with its Friday evening preview.

"The Women," with Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford, Rosalind Russell and Mary Boland, will be the new Ohio film, which is slated for a one-week run. A total of 135 women comprise the characters of the story, with not a man in the cast, but, nevertheless the picture is all about men.

Closing Friday after a highly successful run is "The Old Maid," with Bette Davis, Miriam Hopkins and George Brent in the leading roles.

"Quick Millions," and "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes," will be the new Quilna pictures. The Jones Family provide hundreds of laughs in the first bit. This time they inherit a gold mine and the whole family goes to Grand Canyon

The master detective, Sherlock Holmes, Basil Rathbone portrays the master sleuth and Nigel Bruce is cast as his capable assistant

"Stanley and Livingstone," closes Friday afternoon.

The love, the thrills and the heart aches of a million dollar bandit are revealed in "I Stole A Million," which will open Saturday at the Sigma. George Raft is the bandit and is supported in the picture by lovely Claire Trevor and Dick Foran.

"The Ex-Champ," with Victo, McLaglen and "The Rookie Cop," will show thru Friday.

Two hit pictures and a thrilling serial are showing at the Lyric theatre "Mickey the Kid," with Bruce Cabot and Zasu Pitts, is a story of a criminal who hides during the daytime and commits his crimes after dark.

"New Frontier," has John Wayne as the hero while the three Mesquiteers are his aids Another chapter of "Daredevils of the Red Circle," is viewable.

"Rangers Round-up," at the Majestic theatre is a musical western film. Fred Scott has the featured role.

"The Affairs of Annabella," with Jack Oakie and Lucille Ball," is the other film.

Two of Hollywood's best known stars, Myrna Loy and Robert Taylor, have the leads in "Lucky Night," half of the State bill. "Inside Information," also showing, is a hit mystery film, which stars June Lang and Dick Foran.

OHIO

With star honors divided three ways among Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford and Rosalind Russell, "The Women" will open Saturday at the Ohio. Unusual in its premise of presenting one of the strongest love stories to come out of Hollywood in months, and yet never showing before the camera the masculine objects of the various women's affections, "The Women" may well be nominated as the most unusual production of any year. It is decidedly top entertainment from every angle, with sharp, snappy dialogue thrilling situations and sets of eye-filling beauty.

Not since "Riptide" has Norma Shearer appeared in a similar role and her return to drawing-room comedy is heralded by her many fans. Joan Crawford, portraying a "heavy" for the first time in her screen career, scores a decided triumph, as does Rosalind Russell, who is proving one of Hollywood's most versatile actresses. Phyllis Povah, imported from New York to create her stage role in the picture, is a happy addition to the roster of Hollywood players, and Mary Boland and Paulette Goddard garner more than a generous share of the plaudits

Incidentally, those who witnessed the stage play will find that the drama lost nothing in being transferred to the screen. The broader scope offered by the celluloid provides many more spectacular moments than would be possible on the stage, outstanding among these being the beauty shop sequence and the fashion show.

SIGMA

If you can imagine an innocent little snowball starting to roll, growing larger, rolling faster until it becomes a veritable avalanche roaring to a deafening crash—you have a fair understanding of the mad adventures of the title role in "I Stole A Million," which is the next attraction at the Sigma theatre. It starts Saturday

George Raft plays the part with such sincerity that one lives every moment of his mad career as the man who wanted to go straight but decided he couldn't.

He fights hard to live it again when he meets the girl of his dreams. She inspires him to great heights. But minor misdemeanors of his past haunt his new happiness until he turns at bay against the world. Then comes action that is said to have even astonished Hollywood.

The girl? Claire Trevor, whose popularity has recently soared to still higher peaks because of her great portrayal in "Stagecoach," and her weekly performances as "Lorch" with Edward G. Robinson on the coast-to-coast radio show, "Big Town."

Supporting this co-starring team are Dick Foran, the romantic rival; Victor Jory, building for menace; Henry Armetta, whose presence you know means comedy; and a cast of principals that are well known for consistently good portrayals.

That comes from the belief by everyone connected with it that it can't help but be great. And so it worked with "I Stole A Million."

QUILNA

The fabulous crown jewels of Great Britain pictured so frequently in recent months, are the loot in the super-crime of the century, a coup of criminal genius that pits the master detective of fiction against his arch-enemy, the fiendish Moriarty, in "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes." Basil Rathbone plays Conan Doyle's great sleuth, Nigel Bruce plays Dr. Watson and the cast of this 20th Century-Fox picture also features Ida Lupino and Alan Marshal in the romantic roles.

The film, based on the play "Sherlock Holmes" by William Gillette (famed stage impersonator of Holmes), with the permission of the executors of the late Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's estate, depicts the strange case of the chinchilla fetish; the Traitor's Gate; the fiendish instrument that strangles, crushes, then vanishes; the Star of Delhi, and the albatross of doom

It is at the Quilna Friday evening.

No sooner do the Jones Family return from Hollywood (where they went via trailer in their last 20th Century-Fox comedy) than they get a telegram informing them that they have just inherited a gold mine and have to be at the Grand Canyon in four days to claim it! It's the start of a lode of fun in their latest picture, "Quick Millions," which opens Friday night at the Quilna theatre. They disrupt all the sentimental plans of the Marysville Welcoming Committee and start off again for the West in their mud-spattered trailer to encounter all sorts of hilarious adventures while prospecting for gold in the hills. Malcolm St. Clair, who has directed most of the popular series, megaphoned this picture, whose cast is highlighted by the presence of the inimitable Eddie Collins. This rotund comedian will be remembered for his frontiersman in Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Young Mr. Lincoln."

LYRIC

Virile drama comes to the screen in "Mickey The Kid," a Republic picture at the Lyric theatre Friday.

A fine cast of Hollywood's favorite action, character, and comedy stars presents the story of a young boy's heroic attempt to establish himself in a community which despises him for the reputation of his gangster-father.

The performance of little Tommy Ryan in this stirring action drama is particularly outstanding, while Bruce Cabot and Ralph Byrd are fine as the crook and the kindly doctor, respectively.

The most noteworthy in the supporting cast are pretty June Storey, Jessie Ralph, and Zasu Pitts. Long a favorite in character roles, Miss Ralph rises to new heights as Tommy's kind-hearted grandmother, and Miss Pitts adds her usual entertaining comedy touch.

Phyllis Isley, Republic's newest candidate for ingenue fame, spends all her spare time on the lot between the shooting of scenes, watching the other players and listening to everything they say so that she may have a well rounded knowledge of movies and movie-making.
