CAPITAL CAVIAR: There's an impulse among some of the president's intimates to pledge themselves to write no more memoirs (a la Moley) about him until after he's retired . . . Mrs. Roosevelt's innocent revelation, anent the family argument about remodeling a house, that F. D. R. "always thinks things will cost less than duction of fighting planes across they do" is the Capital's wow of the week.

White House advisers who wanted the president to bolster his appeal to the special session for embargo repeal with a solemn pledge that he does not intend ever to send American soldiers to France ran into the objectionfrom other advisers—that such a declaration might hurt the democracies more than cash-and-carry would help them.

"-what, no more memoirs?"

Some experts think American lane factories might stamp out later-Capt. Dempewolfe has the the larger parks and ship them to Canada.

Also, one big plane company vith a dormant Canadian subsidiary has one extra stamping machine it could send to Canada. But atives at Indianapolis were killed the motor and airplane dilemma seems to endanger any early prothe border.

Two of the isolationist phrases you will hear over and over during the special session:

Vandenberg's "You can't be an arsenal for one side without becoming a target for the other" and Borah's "it isn't that we hate Hitler less, but that we love America more."

So far the anti-embargo cashand-carry forces haven't coined any phrases as potent. 0 0'0

PROPAGANDA: A Berlin radio station broadcast that British sailors from the liner Queen Mary and French sailors from the Normandle were fighting on the New York waterfront.

An investigation in New York revealed that sailors from the two liners had staged a waterfront The eleventh-hour drive to start party, drinking to their victory

Our diplomats (as if they didn't save enough to keep them awake nights) are now bothered by reports that the Russo-Jap "truce" will soon be transformed into an agreement to divide up eastern Asia, with the Russians dominant in the northern area and the Japs shedding their protection over the entire southern part.

The Russians would get a sixable chunk in the interior.

About ali our diplomats can do is hope it isn't so. German diplomacy hopes to get a cut in Asia, too. Such a move would narrow both oceans for us.

In the last few days the Dies Committee has been tipped off that the Nazi Bund is going with fresh vigor after the support of retired regular army officers, reserve corps officers and national The Fritz Kuhn communazis are especially eager to interest youngish officers around forty who are retired on half pay in the periodic Army house-cleanings. These dejected gentlemen are regarded as topnotch Fascist material by the salesmen of fascism. Maybe the communazis are wrong about them.

POTOMAC CHAFF: One of the Capital's leading merchants has at last removed the swastika from the red flag which hangs in front of his store . . . Sen. Reynolds, the great isolationist, is embarrassed because his North Carolina planters, whose tobacco is no longer being bought by the British, want the embargo repealed . . . What caused the final ban on neckers in the White House was the discovery of one or two empty whisky flasks on the lawn.
