In addition to the guest star., another new feature that will be heard for the second time on the streamlined Allen program is the audience quiz spot to which will be added a "question of the week."

The question will be focussed each week on what seems to be the most completely irrelevant news item of the moment. For example, if a woman should bring suit because she dislocated her vertebrae while slipping on a corset, Fred will ask members of the studio audience for their comments on the case. These collected, he will then, one may safely assume to his own ideas on the matter to the sum total of opinion.

Among the popular personalities to appear are Portland Hoffa, Harry von Zell, the Merry Macs quartet featuring pretty Helen Carroll, Wynn Murray, sensational young songstress, Peter Van Steeden's band and those perennial pillars of the drama, the Mighty Allen Art Players. In their burlesque dramatic offering, Fred will play the title role in a contemporary drama of public opinion entitled "Dr. Scallup Goes to Town," or "Is a Decimal Point a Black-

New members of the Pearce Gang on this series will be Billy House, noted musical comedy and tadio comedian, and Don Reid, lyric tenor.

As in the past, Pearce will continue to portray the low-pressure salesman, Elmer Blurt, as well as the program a cavalcade of fi-Eb in the Eb and Zeb sketches, in addition to being master of ceremonies of the program. Carl Hoff will again be musical director for Eastern Standard-Subtract One Hr. series.

Grace George, recreating the same role which originally starred her on Broadway, will be costarred with Claude Rains in "Kind Lady" Wednesday at 9 p. m. when the Star Theatre is broadcast over WABC.

"Kind Lady," adapted by Edward Chodorov from a Hugh Walpole story, is a tightly knit melodrama, dealing with strange happenings that befall a rich old lady who befriends a ragged stranger on Christmas night in London. The stranger, (played by Rains), almost succeeds in convincing the old lady (played by Miss George) that she is insane but before he can mulct her out of her worldly goods, the old lady bucks up and saves herself not only from the crook, but from her own belief that she has lost her mind.

Alice Marble, American tennis queen and currently the country's number one glamour girl, will guest with Ken Murray on the Hollywood originated half-hour of the program which features Frances Langford, Kenny Baker, Irene
