GRAMP gets grumpy when you call him an "old man." Says he doesn't feel a day over 35.

But Gramp has a cane to lean on. Not the gold-headed one his boss gave him when Gramp retired last year. The cane he leans on is life insurance. Gives him a regular monthly income as long as he lives; he is not dependent on anybody.

Did you ever wonder how much people really get out of life insurance? They were benefited, in various ways, by over two and onehalf billion dollars last year. But let's look at just one special group of people:

Life Insurance in Action

To defend and protect the U.S. and all Its possessions the Government paid out about one billion dollars for all branches of national defense last year. To defend and protect American homes, the life insurance companies met one and one-third billion dollars in 1938 in death claims, annuitles, endowments and disabilities . . . enough to give a million families $100 every month in the year. There was still another $1,200,000,000 in various other kinds of life insurance benefits last year.

About a million people drew monthly incomes, collected endowments or received disability income from life insurance companies last year. How much did the million get? About 475 million dollars or about 70 million dollars more than the cost of the entire U.S. Army for the year!

Through his foresight in past years, Grandpa is one of this million. He and Grandma are very good examples of life insurance in action. They had protection for the family while the children were growing up. And now they have security for their own old age. "And I didn't have to die to win," says Gramp.

There are competent and well-trained representatives in every community to explain the benefits of life insurance. Let your agent discuss your individual needs with you.

A winding country road under a harvest moon, the night air scented by new-mown fields, and a merry party on a hayride—it was a good old American custom a few years ago.

The hayride is seldom seen nowadays. Times have changed and the old country road has been streamlined into a super highway. But there is one thing that hasn't changed—the keen sense of enjoyment that built up such delightful customs as the hayride.
