Business, Government Meet in Radio Debate on Problems Tonight

Listener reaction amazed Edgar Bergen when he tried to curb Charlie McCarthy's conceit by using Mortimer Snerd, pictured here, on the Sunday night variety hour. Edgar got hundreds of letters chiding him for disciplining Charlie with not a single one complimenting the ventriloquist for "mowing down" his own creation.

The problem of business vs. government will be discussed tonight by high-ranking representatives of both fields in America's Town Meeting of the Air, to be broadcast at 8:30 by WENR.

Speakers will be Jerome Frank, chairman of the Securities Exchange Commission; William McC. Martin, president of the New York Stock exchange; Sen. Robert A. Taft (R., Ohio), and Floyd Odlum, industrial leader.

Who's Who Among Wisconsin Birds

EASTERN SNOW BUNTING

The Eastern Snow Bunting is found in Wisconsin in winter. Its summer home, where it raises its families, takes in the islands of the Arctic north to the northern parts of the mainland from Alaska to northern Quebec. It winters from the Aleutian Islands, southern Alberta, central Manitoba and central Quebec south to northern United States and at times irregularly to eastern Oregon, Colorado, Kansas, southern Indiana, southern Ohio, south Carolina and Florida. It is a casual in Bermuda.

It is a regular winter visitor from the north in winter and is most abundant in the open country. It does not nest in the state. In the far north where it does nest, the nest is built of weeds and grasses found on the ground and is lined with feathers and hair.

Its food in winter consists of 96.53 per cent vegetable matter and in summer 70.74 per cent of its food is vegetable, largely weed seeds. It also eats caterpillars, beetles, spiders, crane flies, etc.

The male has the general color of white and black, more or less heavily overlaid with rusty. The wings are largely white and are black-tipped. The tail is mostly white with the central feathers dark. The female is darker, striped on back and the white of the wings and tail is restricted but distinctive. As spring approaches the rusty color disappears and the male becomes almost entirely a white and black bird.
