BUREAU GROUP

(Special To The Lima News) OTTAWA, Jan. 3—Approximately 500 farmers attended the fourth annual open house program of the Putnam-co Farm Bureau in the armory here Tuesday,

Three speakers were heard during the day while four talking pictures of an educational nature and one with entertainment as its motive were shown. The open house started at 10:30 a. m. and continued until about 4:30 p. m.

John Sims of Columbus, a representative of the fertilizer industry of the farm bureau, spoke on the fertilizer requirements of soils.

A talk on power farmer was given by County Agent Ralph Dush while the third speaker was Ray

Donnan, former Putnam-co agent.

He discussed hybrid seed corn.

The pictures were shown during the morning after which the crowd adjourned to the bureau headquarters for luncheon. The speaking program followed in the afternoon with Finn presiding.

Manager John Finn announced.

who pound by pound is unquestionably the hottest trumpet player in the world. Carl is four years old and weighs 56 pounds.

Now that everybody has given "Oh, Johnny, Oh" a workout on the networks, Kay Kyser is going to lend new emphasis to the revived tune with a special arrangement on his "College of Musical Knowledge" over WEAF Wednesday at 10 p. m. His orchestra will also play "The Little Red Fox" from Kyser's picture; "El Rancho Grande" and "Beer Barrel Polka." Vocals include "Lilacs in the Rain" by Ginny Simms; "Goody Goodbye" and "Stop It's ingenue; Dick Todd, baritone; Wonderful" by Sully Mason; "My The Avalon Chorus; Bob Strong's Prayer" by Harry Babbitt and a orchestra and Del King, masterduet of "South of the Border" by of-ceremonies, continues un-Babbitt and Ginny Simms. Kyser's changed, musical quiz questions will, as usual, predominate.

Charles Boyer, soft-speaking French screen and radio star who recently returned to the United States after service with the French army, will rejoin the Hollywood Playhouse Wednesday. He s booked for a 26-week run in his regular spot as featured artist on the show heard Wednesdays at 8 p. m. over WEAF.

Boyer left this country in July to fill a contract with a French film company and was in his native land when the war broke out. He was drafted for service and only recently was mustered out after hostilities on the western front failed to attain expected proportions.

Boyer will make his first appearance on the Playhouse in a dramatization of his last movie. 'When Tomorrow Comes." Gaie Page, heard with Jim Ameche on the series during Boyer's absence, will play opposite the French

Al Pearce, in his role of masterof-ceremonies and comedian, will present Harry Lang, noted character comic of the radio and vaudeville, when he leads his gang before WABC on Wednesday from 8 to 8:30 p. m.

Sue Carol, former motion picture star now serving as agent for other picture stars, will guest on the Hollywood end of the Star-Theatre Wednesday at 9 p. m. Miss Craol will be presented in a sketch kidding agents. Ken Murray, Irene Noblette, Frances Langford, Kenny Baker and David Brockman's orchestra will be

Cliff Arquette, versatile radio comedian probably best known for his portrayal of "Grandpappy Sneed," will replace Red Skelton director of the Wednesday night series at 8:30 p. m. over

Since coming to radio he has played practically every type of character and spoken every kind of dialect. Arquette has appeared on such major shows as Fibber McGee and Molly and Rudy Vallee Hour. The remainder of the cast, which includes Edna Stillwell
