Louise Campbell is a proper sort of gal who likes her kisses to be formal. MacMurray put on his Ascot tie, bowed low, tried to remember how Herbert Marshall would act under such conditions, and went to work. It came out swell. Barbara Stanwyck is something like thatequally deliberate, anway, tho more thoro.

Miss Arthur is just the opposite. Extremely shy offstage, she parks her inhibitions when the camera begins to roll. Kisses must mean something. She believes a kiss is better than a hundred endearing words of dialog. Wesley Ruggles is a meticulous director who makes: lots of retakes, and in "Too Many Husbands" there are lots of kissing scenes. The stout-lipped Mac-Murray is hearing up very well, but he's grateful for all his years of saxophone playing.

ITS A BUSINESS WITH ANN SHERIDAN

The actor discovered that Jean Farker likes her amorous salutes on the tender but big-brotherish side. The gentleman from Kankakee obliged. Ellen Drew, fresh from the extra ranks when heah-met her on the set, also preferred the informal variety, but with a more-than-platonic enthu-

Delicious BEEF TENDERLOIN

Film Nation 1 Awaited At Ohio Feb. 16

The picture a nation waited three years to see will have its premiere showing in Lima at the Ohio theatre with a matinee performance on Friday, Feb. 16, where it has been booked for a week's engagement. Matinee and evening performances will be shown daily starting at 2 and 8 p. m. sharp.

This picture, "Gone With the Wind," containing a cast of thousands and representing hundreds of dollars in expenditure to produce, will be shown in its entirety, as it has been shown thus far in Atlanta, New York, and other large cities. Reserve seat tickets are now on sale at the Ohio.

Starring Clark Gable, Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia De Havilland, the technicolor production contains many well known names in the enormous cast. This film version of the great novel of the Old South written by Margaret Mitchell has been heralded by motion picture critics as the greatest production in many years.

Among the versatile stars studding the cast and guaranteeing the best in characterizations are such names as Thomas Mitchell, who has achieved recent fame for many character parts; "Jane Darwell, the "Ma" Joad of Grapes of Wrath;" Cliff Edwards, ukelele virtuoso of immense popularity; Ann Rutherford, well known for her parts in the Hardy family series; Victor Jory, versatile actor of both romantic and heavy parts; Laura Hope Crews, comedienne; Ona Munson, known to radio audiences as "Lorelei;" Roscoe Ates, stuttering comedian of many comedy hits; Paul Hurst, familiar heavy; Eric Landen, stage actor and former juvenile favorite; Yakima Canutt, familiar to many as a great rider and stunt man; Eddie Anderson, the "Rochester" of Jack Benny's radio program; and several other fames of popularity such as Isabel Jewell, William Bakewell, Ward Bond, Tom Tyler, Harry Davenport, Evelyn Keves, and Barbara O'Neill. Much of the cost of the production can be seen when it is noted that $50,000 was first spent for the motion picture rights, and several thousand stars interviewed and tested for the various parts. Many technical advisors were necessary to the staff to assure curacy, and thousands of extras pky. Members present were Mrs. T had to be hired for the immense scenes such as burning of the military supplies at Atlanta.

Stars Seen At The Sigma

A wise and courageous studio has succeeded again in pointing the way to fine and engrossing screen entertainment along another path where others have feared to tread.

The demonstration of the truth of that statement is the new picopened Saturday at the Sigma Byington and Johnnie Davis.

It seems ridiculous that the rich vein of drama, pathos and comedy that is provided by so important an event as the birth of a human being has never before been thoroly mined.

The picture, "A Child Is Boin." is a skillful weaving together of the individual stories of all the patients into one intensely human photoplay.

The story of one young woman and the devoted youth who is her busband dominates all the other happenings in and about the ward, not only because of its intrinsic interest but also because of the consummate artistry with which the youthful couple is depicted by Geraldine Fitzgerald and Jeffrey

It is a tragic tale of a murderess who has been transferred from prison to the hospital to have her baby and of the agonizing dilemma presented to the faithful young husband when he is told that either his wife or the expected baby must be sacrificed if the other is to live. Gladys George is perfect in the
