St. Patrick's Day Program To Be Given By Kate Smith

Ripley To Tell How "Card Detective" And Prosecutor Combined To Strike Blow At Crooked Gambling

Barry Fitzgerald and Sara Allgood will return to the "Kate Smith Hour" on Friday as the feature of the singer's St. Patrick's Day program over WABC at 8 p. m. They will present Sean O'Casey's "The End of the Beginning."

Irish music will supplement Kate's usual popular repertoire in the musical portion of the program which will feature the Ted Straeter Singers and Jack Miller and his orchestra. Abbott and Costello's comedy will be spiced with Irish laugh lines.

The thrilling inside story of how a renowned "card detective" and a Brooklyn proseeutor struck a vital blow at crime and forged a strong legal weapon to help authorities stamp out crooked gambling in the United States will be told on Bob Ripley's "Believe It or Not' program at 10 p. m. Friday over WABC. Michael McDougall, the card detective, and Assistant District Attorney John Rooney, of Kings County, who gathered the evidence that sent four card cheats to prison recently, will tell how they established the first case in American jurisprudence in which gamblers were convicted of conspiracy to defraud. Ripley also will present an incredible story about St. Patrick's Day in a dramatization enacted by the "Believe It or Rachmaninoff's famous song. "In the Silence of Night," will be Lucille Manners' soprano solo during the concert Friday at 8 p. m. over WEAF. Miss Manners also will sing White's "Two Blue Eyes," Goulding's "Oh, Give Me Time For Tenderness" from "Dark Victory," and with Ross Graham, baritone, "Neath the Southern Moon," from Victor Herbert's "Naughty Marietta."

Dr. Frank Black will conduct the orchestra in "Shamrocks in Swingtime," a medley of Irish traditional No. 2." The choir sings Molloy's "Kerry Dance," and a medley of five Irish songs. Assistant Secretary of the Navy

Lewis Compton, and members of the Explorers' club who were with Byrd on previous voyages, will participate in a salute to the to be broadcast over WEAF at ings from the "Outside;" the U. S. Navy band will play, and a Munn, tenor, will sing

"Happy Birthday to Love" and "More Than You Know" on the Waltz Time program Friday at 9

New Romantic Team Be Seen In Ohio Feature

Combination Composed Of Spencer Tracy And Hedy Lamarr; Quilna Film Based On Civilian Aviation Program

A new and interesting romantic team makes its screen bow in "I Take This Woman" at the Ohio theatre commencing Saturday. The combination comprises Spencer "Parole Fixer," also at the Sigma Tracy and Hedy Lamarr, the teaming of two distinctly different personalities in a story suitable to their differences. Showing for the last times Friday is "Strange Cargo," starring Clark Gable and Joan Crawford.

At the Sigma theatre commencing Saturday is "Three Cheers for the Irish," starring Thomas Mitchell, Priscilla Lane. Alan Hale, and Dennis Morgan, in a clever comedy feud between an Irish cop and his Scot successor and suitor

Also commencing Saturday is "Meet Dr. Christian" starring Jean Hersholt. "The Grapes of Wrath" will be shown for the last times Friday.

"Tropic Fury" and "Phantom of Santa Fe" are the current Lyric features. Andy Devine and Richard Arlen are starred in "Tropic Fury," with Beverly Roberts, Samuel S. Hinds and Lupita Tovar, in an action drama revealing the methods necessary to break a threatened world-wide rubber monopoly.

Rosemary Lane, Wayne Morris and Humphrey Bogart are starred in the State theatre's tense thriller, "The Return of Dr. X," a weird story of a mad genius with medical knowledge. "Three Sons," also playing, presents Edward Ellis in the role of a successful merchant who has worked all of his life for his three sons. The effect of success on the sons makes the picture supreme in entertainment "Little Princess" and "Caval-

OHIO

Hedy Lamarr definitely becomes an outstanding dramatic actress in her first American picture background, in "I Take This Woman," opening Saturday at Ohio theatre, in which she is co-starred with Spencer Tracy, one of the screen's greatest actors.

The story of a social butterfly who, when her romance crashes, finds sanctuary and finally real love, happiness and a new destiny at the side of an earnest, faithful scientist, "I Take This Woman" follows "Lady of the Tropics," in which she was co-starred with Robert Taylor.

The action of the story is in New York, in locales ranging from glamorous night clubs and fashion salons to a dingy tenement. Verree Teasdale has one of her best wise-cracking roles and Kent Taylor enacts Tracy's rival for Miss Lamarr in the play. Laraine Day, Mona Barrie, Jack Carson, Paul Cavanagh, Louis Galhern, Frances Drake, Marjorie Main, George E. Stone, Willie Best, Don Castle, Dalies Frantz and Reed Hadley are other principals in the large cast.

Dramatic highlights include an attempted suicide and rescue; a dramatic encounter between Miss Lamarr and her former lover; the event that brings her to a realization that the physician is her real love; and gay revels in the colorful Zebra club, its pillars formed of huge painted zebras. Penthouses of the rich contrast with action in the humble clinic. Miss Lamarr wears a number of gorgeous gowns, and other glamorous modes are shown in a colorful scene in a fashion studio. Clark Gable and Joan Crawford in "Strange Cargo" will be shown for the last times Friday.
