ECONOMY RUN TEST CAR COMING HERE MARCH 25

The Mercury economy run test car, making one of the most significant test runs in modern automotive history will arrive here on its demonstration tour of 85 cities in Michigan and northwestern Ohio March 25th at 3:20 p. m. It will be greeted by Mayor F. E. McClain and Chief of Police James E. Goodwin.

Such was the statement made here today by Walter Davison, Mercury supervisor of this area for the Ford Motor Co., following a conference with L. B. Timmerman, local Mercury dealer.

The purpose of the trip, according to Timmerman, is to provide a factual demonstration of recent developments in automotive engineering. Speeds between fifteen and twenty miles per hour once were considered most economical. but this economy run will demonstrate that modern automotive ipment functions beat at much tigher speeds.
