Famous Critic Taylor Will Play On Westinghouse Show

Deems To Do "Chopsticks" In Debut As Instrumentalist; Bing Crosby To Have New Vocalist As Guest

Deems Taylor, distinguished music critic and composer and master of ceremonies of Musical Americans, will make his program debut as instrumentalist over WJZ at 8 p. m. Thursday. He will be heard with the Westinghoue orchestra in the traditional "Chopsticks."

Leon Brenner, 22, of Elmhurst, Ill., a student of the violin at DePaul university, Chicago, will be the guest soloist. Orchestral numbers include the currently revived "Ma, He's Making Eyes at Me."

A young lady who lived next door to Bing Crosby in Los Angeles while he was still singing a trio hasn't been forgotten by the crooner. Carol MacFarland is her name and she'll make her radio singing debut at the invitation of Bing in the Music Hall Thursday at 10 p. m. over WEAF. Basil Rathbone and Spring Byington will be the other guests, with the regulars, Rob Burns, the Music Maids and John Scott Trotters' orchestra.

Popular modern American rhythms will be played on the world's oldest musical instrument, constructed from million-year-old fossil rhinoceros bones, by Henry Reider, palentologist of the Uniof Nebraska, on the Strange As It Scems program, Thursday at 8:30 p. m. over WABC. Another feature of the broadcast will be the story of Hen-
