State Cheese Allowed More Moisture

New orders raising the moisture content of Wisconsin State brand brick and Muenster cheese 1 per cent were announced today by Ralph E. Ammon, director of the state department of agriculture. The orders were approved by the state board of agriculture after a study of testimony taken at hearings on both types of cheese, and will become effective Wednesday.

Under the new regulations the moisture content of Wisconsin State brand brick cheese is raised from 41 per cent with a tolerance of 1 per cent to 42 per cent with a tolerance of 1 per cent. The moisture content of Wisconsin State brand Muenster cheese is raised from 42 per cent with a tolerance of 1 per cent to 43 per cent with a tolerance of 1 per cent.

The brick cheese order for the first time classifies and regulates the manufacture, holding, and grading of a type of cheese known as Daisy Brick.

All standards and regulations for brick cheese are now grouped within one general order. The new order for Muenster cheese also combines all standards and regulations for that type of cheese.

Quiet Before Weekend Storm
DETROIT (U.P.)—Firing in the American Bowling Congress Friday left the standings as they were, but light scoring was regarded as the lull before a weekend storm of strikes and spares.

Willis Martin, Woodville, Ohio, posted the highest total when he struck his way to 665 in singles competition, hitting 205, 236, and 224.

Joe Whetstone and Greg Danielson, Oakland, Calif., topped the doubles trial with 1,275. Whetstone rolled 222, 169, and 258 for 649, and Danielson strung together 224, 210, and 212 for 626.

Gene Gagliardi, Los Angeles, who captured the singles title at New York in 1937, carded 603 in the singles after a 580 in the doubles trials and 576 in the five-man event.

High scores which are still in the money but are being pushed up at the average of two points a day are: five-man, 2,608; doubles, 1,100; singles, 562; all-events, 1,763.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay
"The Authority on Authorities"
SILENCE IS ELOQUENT
GOOD CARD readers get information from things that are not done, as well as from those that are done. Why didn't that player make a certain bid, lead or play? Sometimes the answer to a question of that kind will furnish the only clue you need to figure out the location of cards which can determine the entire result of the deal.

er to finesse against the Q or try to drop it, South postponed the decision. He came in with the A, knowing he could finesse later if he decided to. But when West played the 8, he had all the additional evidence he required.

First, he decided that East, holding only a doubleton or triplet, headed by a small card, would have led the top of it. Therefore, East had at least four, since he led the 2. If he had held five, he would have bid the suit first instead of diamonds. Hence he had exactly four and West two. If West had the 8 and a smaller one, he should have played the smaller one on the first club trick. Therefore, South decided West had the Q, and consequently played his K next, dropping it and assuring the success of his risky contract, bid without any diamond stopper.

Your Week-End Lesson
If North bid 1-Heart, South 2-No Trumps and North 3-No Trumps, what card would you lead, as West, from each of these hands?
1. ♠ Q J 9 8 2. ♠ A 9 8 4
3. ♠ K 6 3 4. ♠ K 6 3
5. ♠ J 9 6 6. ♠ J 9 6 5
7. ♠ 8 2 8. ♠ 8 2
9. ♠ 9 5 3 10. ♠ 8 4 2
11. ♠ K J 6 5 12. ♠ 8 7
13. ♠ K 10 7 14. ♠ K 8 7 5 4 3
15. ♠ Q 10 8 16. ♠ 10 7
17. ♠ 6 5 2 18. ♠ 6 5 2
19. ♠ A 8 7 5 4 20. ♠ K Q J 10 8
21. ♠ K 7 22. ♠ K 7
23. ♠ 6 3 24. ♠ 6 3 2

After the defenders had ripped off four diamond tricks, and needed only one more to defeat the contract, East led the club 2. South promptly saw that his only chance to run nine consecutive tricks lay in making four club tricks in addition to the five which were certain in the major suits. Reduced still further, his problem was to prevent the club Q from winning a trick.

In order to get a line on whether to finesse against the Q or try to drop it, South postponed the decision. He came in with the A, knowing he could finesse later if he decided to. But when West played the 8, he had all the additional evidence he required.
