

Today's Radio Highlights

9:30 a. m., WOL—A bright idea has come from Mrs. Albert Youngman who points to the lack of setting-up exercises for the early morning listener. This program by Mutual's Wallace, Keep Fit to Music, is our town of sedentary workers, single setter-upper. Got any ideas on this matter?

7:30, WMAL—Betty Garde, star of the radio series, My Son and I and Myron McCormick, featured in Pare Lorentz' film "Fight for Life," play an original air drama by Frank Nolan on Manhattan at Midnight.

7:30, WRC—A new-angle-or-is-it? The Jethro Boys from Kentucky are about to avenge the classics for their merry revivification at the hands of the swingers. They're turning a hot modern ditty into hill-billy.

8:15, WOL—Family conscious: Dr. Pedigree and his Who Are You move to a new time for those "winter" months Mutual is harping of these pleasant days. Formerly Mondays at 7:30 p. m., the new time is Wednesday at 8:15. The Carews and the Careys are the folks on this one, with Harry Carey of the films and stage lending his assistance.

8:30, WOL—Richard Huey returns to Washington tonight with his Sheep and Goats Club, an amalgamation of psalm singers and hep-cats. There's also a sermon promised for the emphatic country parson.

8:30, WJSV—Succeeding the now completed Stadium Concerts on the Columbia schedule is this series of the Columbia Concert Orchestra conducted by Bernard Herrmann. Handel's Overture to "Acis and Galatea" precedes Haydn's "Oxford" Symphony in G.

9:15, WJSV—Harlee Branch and Robert H. Hinckley discuss National Defense.
