

Popular Comedienne To Be Guest On Music Hall Show

Mary Boland Will Trade Quips With Bazooka Bob Burns; Mystery Of "After Death" Writer On WABC

Mary Boland, the lady who has made a fortune playing scatterbrained parts on stage and screen, plus the piano team of Bartlett and Roberson, join Bob Burns and Dorothy Lamour in the Music Hall Thursday for another banner evening of entertainment.

The Music Maids and John Scott Trotter's orchestra complete the entertainment bill that lasts for 59 minutes and 10 seconds over WEAF starting at 9 p. m.

The baffling psychic phenomenon of Patience Worth, a woman of the 17th Century who "returned after death" thru Mrs. John H. Curran of St. Louis to write some of the finest literature of our times, will be recalled on the Strange As It Seems program, Thursday over WABC at 8:30 p. m.

Strange As It Seems will reveal how Mrs. Curran first made contact with Patience Worth in 1913 while engaged in a "ouija" board session. Patience evidently had plenty to say for she "dictated" six novels, many short stories, discourses and volumes of poetry—totalling 1,500,000 words during the next five years.

Rudy Vallee will slip into his best Irish brogue when the life of Thomas Moore, eminent Irish poet, is dramatized during the Rudy Vallee program over WEAF at 10 p. m. Thursday.

Vivacious Audrey Marsh, looking and sounding as beautiful as she does in her best motion pictures, will appear on the program with Charlie Cantor, comedian dialectician.

If you ever had trouble with Latin during your school days you'll appreciate the plight in which Ezra "Henry Aldrich" Stone finds himself during the broadcast of "The Aldrich Family" over WEAF Thursday at 8:30 p. m.

Ezra wants to study with the girl across the street, at least that's the excuse he gives his dad, but when asked to show his Latin textbook he simply can't find it. The dead language really comes alive to haunt him.

The Pot O'Gold featuring Horace Heidt and his band, will change time on its first anniversary October 3, when the program moves from its Thursday 8:30-9:00 p. m. spot to an 8:00-8:30 p. m. spot over WJZ.

On the same date the Pot O'Gold program will add four more stations to its web, rounding out the number to an even hundred.

William S. Knudsen, production coordinator of the National Defense Advisory Commission, will report to the nation on the progress of the commission, over WJZ, Thursday.

The program will originate from the studios in Washington and will be heard from 9:00 to 9:15. Two well-known radio personalities, Ed East and Nelson Case, will make their official debuts as quizmaster and announcer, respectively, on Ask-A-Basket, variety quiz show Thursday, WABC, 8:00 p. m.

Heading for excitement and romance are James Cagney and Ann Sheridan, stars of "City For Conquest," commencing Saturday at the Ohio theatre.

The Ohio offers an exciting film version of a European reporter's adventures on the eve of a great war in "Foreign Correspondent." Publisher Henry Davenport sends erime reporter Joel McCrea to Europe to write the news as he sees it. McCrea finds intrigue and adventure as well as romance with Laraine Day. George Studders and Herbert Marshall have supporting roles.

The State theatre offers "Two Girls on Broadway," a stirring romance of a trio of vaudeville performers with Lana Turner, Joan Blondell and George Murphy cast in the roles of hoofers. The co-feature, "You Can't Fool Your Wife," stars Lucille Ball and James Ellison.

The double bill at the Majestic offers plenty of action and excitement in "Florida" and "Frontier Marshal."

Always maintaining a high pitch of excitement, the picture that follows Frank over all the lawless west, with tremendously stirring scenes of robbery, murder, gun-fights, man-hunts, train hold-ups, escape and pursuit.

In bringing authenticity into the melodrama of New York life "City For Conquest," which opens Saturday at the Ohio, the studio sent a location crew headed by Hyson ("Bunny") Haskins, director-camera man, and his technical force, to shoot "key" scenes about New York City.

Donald Crisp, Gagey, Ann Sheridan, Arthur Q. Brown, Arthur Kennedy and Elia Kazan take the leading roles in the New York background. Kennedy and Kazan are New York actors who were imported from their home footlights in Hollywood upon completion of the New York "key" shots, Kennedy playing Gagey's gentle natured younger brother in the picture, and Kazan, who hails from the "Group Theatre," playing "Googy," a slim boy who grows up to become a big shot racketeer, and who loses his life out of his loyalty to his boyhood chum, Gagey.

Haskins and his men spent three weeks prowling New York, from the Battery to the Williamsburg bridge, in their quest for striking shots in the actual locale.

The picture, now at the Sigma theatre, spotlights the remarkable career of the historic Dr. Thomas Arnold, headmaster of England's famous Rugby School from 1824 to 1841, the inventor of the honor system, the man who revolutionized the world's scholastic ideas of his insistence that a school's first duty is to build character and manhood, not sterile scholarship.

"Tom Brown's School Days" tells in striking fashion the dramatic story of his beliefs, his struggles and his final triumph thru the eyes of Tom Brown, a young Rugby scholar, and his fellows. The adventures and exploits and troubles of the youngsters, their battles with schoolyard bullies and their awakening of the meaning of Dr. Arnold's rigid but benevolent rule over them, all make for an amazingly stirring film.

As the resolute Dr. Sir Cedric Hardwicke gives what is unquestionably his finest performance to date. The sensational boy star, Jimmy Lydon, who plays Tom Brown, and Freddie Bartholomew in the role of Tom's friend, Harry Pass, are superb, and the rest of the featured cast, Josephine Hutchinson, Billy Halop, Ernest Cossart, Gale Storm and Hughie Green offer splendid portrayals.

What happens to a fussy father who makes promises he can't keep, is humorously told in "Pop Always Pays," also showing, Leon Errol heads the cast, with Dennis O'Keefe and Adele Pearce as a young romantic pair.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

STARS OF TURBULENT DRAMA

Heading for excitement and romance are James Cagney and Ann Sheridan, stars of "City For Conquest," commencing Saturday at the Ohio theatre.

STAR IN QUILNA EPIC

Laraine Day, who plays the role of the girl across the street in "The Howards of Virginia," is featured in the picture.

Cary Grant, as a rugged pioneer, and Martha Scott, as a Virginia belle, are the stars of the Quilna coming attraction, "The Howards of Virginia," a thrilling epic of colonial days.

"The Howards Of Virginia" Opens At Quilna On Friday

Cary Grant And Martha Scott Starred In Stirring Romance Of Early American History

Cary Grant and Martha Scott come to the Quilna theatre Friday evening as "The Howards of Virginia," whose stirring romance flourished during America's most trying days, the struggle for freedom. Showing for the last times at the preview will be "Blondie Has Servant Trouble," and "Military Academy."

Laughs are the order of the day at the Sigma theatre where "Pop Always Pays," is the offering with Leon Errol, Dennis O'Keefe, Adele Pearce and Walter Catlett featured. The co-feature, "Tom Brown's School Days," a gripping, absorbing story of boyhood with Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Freddie Bartholomew, Jimmy Lydon and Billy Halop in featured roles.

A "retired" outlaw returns to seek revenge for the murder of his brother in the Lyric feature, "The Return of Frank James," starring Henry Fonda, included in the supporting cast are Gene Tierney, Jackie Cooper, John Carradine, Henry Hull, J. Edward Bromberg and Donald Meek. The co-feature, "Rocky Mountain Rangers" is a western thriller.

The Ohio offers an exciting film version of a European reporter's adventures on the eve of a great war in "Foreign Correspondent." Publisher Henry Davenport sends erime reporter Joel McCrea to Europe to write the news as he sees it. McCrea finds intrigue and adventure as well as romance with Laraine Day. George Studders and Herbert Marshall have supporting roles.

The State theatre offers "Two Girls on Broadway," a stirring romance of a trio of vaudeville performers with Lana Turner, Joan Blondell and George Murphy cast in the roles of hoofers. The co-feature, "You Can't Fool Your Wife," stars Lucille Ball and James Ellison.

The double bill at the Majestic offers plenty of action and excitement in "Florida" and "Frontier Marshal."

Always maintaining a high pitch of excitement, the picture that follows Frank over all the lawless west, with tremendously stirring scenes of robbery, murder, gun-fights, man-hunts, train hold-ups, escape and pursuit.

In bringing authenticity into the melodrama of New York life "City For Conquest," which opens Saturday at the Ohio, the studio sent a location crew headed by Hyson ("Bunny") Haskins, director-camera man, and his technical force, to shoot "key" scenes about New York City.

Donald Crisp, Gagey, Ann Sheridan, Arthur Q. Brown, Arthur Kennedy and Elia Kazan take the leading roles in the New York background. Kennedy and Kazan are New York actors who were imported from their home footlights in Hollywood upon completion of the New York "key" shots, Kennedy playing Gagey's gentle natured younger brother in the picture, and Kazan, who hails from the "Group Theatre," playing "Googy," a slim boy who grows up to become a big shot racketeer, and who loses his life out of his loyalty to his boyhood chum, Gagey.

Haskins and his men spent three weeks prowling New York, from the Battery to the Williamsburg bridge, in their quest for striking shots in the actual locale.

The picture, now at the Sigma theatre, spotlights the remarkable career of the historic Dr. Thomas Arnold, headmaster of England's famous Rugby School from 1824 to 1841, the inventor of the honor system, the man who revolutionized the world's scholastic ideas of his insistence that a school's first duty is to build character and manhood, not sterile scholarship.

"Tom Brown's School Days" tells in striking fashion the dramatic story of his beliefs, his struggles and his final triumph thru the eyes of Tom Brown, a young Rugby scholar, and his fellows. The adventures and exploits and troubles of the youngsters, their battles with schoolyard bullies and their awakening of the meaning of Dr. Arnold's rigid but benevolent rule over them, all make for an amazingly stirring film.

As the resolute Dr. Sir Cedric Hardwicke gives what is unquestionably his finest performance to date. The sensational boy star, Jimmy Lydon, who plays Tom Brown, and Freddie Bartholomew in the role of Tom's friend, Harry Pass, are superb, and the rest of the featured cast, Josephine Hutchinson, Billy Halop, Ernest Cossart, Gale Storm and Hughie Green offer splendid portrayals.

What happens to a fussy father who makes promises he can't keep, is humorously told in "Pop Always Pays," also showing, Leon Errol heads the cast, with Dennis O'Keefe and Adele Pearce as a young romantic pair.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

dom to worship, freedom to speak and to write and to assemble—and the struggle for a government in which the majority shall rule and the minority shall have the right to speak freely.

"Tom Brown's School days," the classic story which has thrilled millions of readers for almost a century, comes to the screen as a gripping, vivid and exciting entertainment for all, young and old.

The picture, now at the Sigma theatre, spotlights the remarkable career of the historic Dr. Thomas Arnold, headmaster of England's famous Rugby School from 1824 to 1841, the inventor of the honor system, the man who revolutionized the world's scholastic ideas of his insistence that a school's first duty is to build character and manhood, not sterile scholarship.

"Tom Brown's School Days" tells in striking fashion the dramatic story of his beliefs, his struggles and his final triumph thru the eyes of Tom Brown, a young Rugby scholar, and his fellows. The adventures and exploits and troubles of the youngsters, their battles with schoolyard bullies and their awakening of the meaning of Dr. Arnold's rigid but benevolent rule over them, all make for an amazingly stirring film.

As the resolute Dr. Sir Cedric Hardwicke gives what is unquestionably his finest performance to date. The sensational boy star, Jimmy Lydon, who plays Tom Brown, and Freddie Bartholomew in the role of Tom's friend, Harry Pass, are superb, and the rest of the featured cast, Josephine Hutchinson, Billy Halop, Ernest Cossart, Gale Storm and Hughie Green offer splendid portrayals.

What happens to a fussy father who makes promises he can't keep, is humorously told in "Pop Always Pays," also showing, Leon Errol heads the cast, with Dennis O'Keefe and Adele Pearce as a young romantic pair.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

Grant, deserting his light comedy roles for the Columbia picture, is said to give the screen the greatest performance of his career in his portrait of Matt Howard, hardy, unflinching frontiersman, who falls in love with a gracious Virginia belle and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part so moving; it is the earnestness and the grim determination with which he is willing to give his life, willing to risk his home and his happiness in the fight for American freedom—freedom of the soil.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3

- Eastern Standard 12 — Subtract One Hour for CST. 2 Hrs. for M. T. (Changes in programs as listed due to late minute network corrections.)
- 5:30—Jack Armstrong—abc-waf-east
- 5:30—Midnight Serial—abc-wjz-east
- 5:30—Bob Barton's Serial—abc-wjz-east
- 5:30—The Announcer (15 m.)—abc-waf
- 5:30—Dance Music Orchestra—abc-waf
- 5:30—Tom Mix Program—abc-wjz-east
- 5:30—Scattergood Raines, Serial—abc-waf
- 5:30—Lil Abner's Sketch—abc-waf
- 5:30—News & Music Program—abc-waf
- 5:30—Children's Hour rpt.—abc-wjz-west
- 5:30—News Broadening—abc-waf-east
- 5:30—Conceit Gold Coast Music—abc-waf
- 5:30—Belvin C. Hill—abc-waf-east
- 5:30—Variety Prog. News—abc-waf
- 5:30—Bill Stern's Music—abc-wjz-only
- 5:30—Bob Hope and Wild Life—abc-waf
- 5:30—J. Lynn, Guest Host—abc-waf
- 5:30—Pauline's Music—abc-waf
- 5:30—Paul Sullivan, News—abc-waf-east
- 5:30—The Children's Orchestra—abc-waf
- 5:30—Paul Sullivan, News—abc-waf
- 5:30—Lowell Thomas, News—abc-waf-east
- 5:30—European News Broadening—abc-waf
- 5:30—Meet Mr. Morgan Prog.—abc-waf
- 5:30—F. Waring Time—abc-waf-west
- 5:30—Three Romances—abc-waf
- 5:30—Dance Music—abc-waf
- 5:30—Amos 'n' Andy, Skit—abc-waf-east
- 5:30—The Golden Gate Quartet—abc-waf
- 5:30—Fulton Lewis, Jr., Talk—abc-waf
- 5:30—European War News—abc-waf
- 5:30—Korn, Dramatic Serial—abc-waf
- 5:30—Jenny Ross & Sun—abc-waf-east
- 5:30—Paul Sullivan, News repeat—abc-waf
- 5:30—Fred Sargeant, Talk—abc-waf
- 5:30—Bob Crosby's Orchi.—abc-waf
- 5:30—Features in Music—abc-waf-east
- 5:30—Vox Poppers & Questions—abc-waf
- 5:30—Accent on Music Orchi.—abc-waf
- 5:30—Conducting in Music—abc-waf
- 5:30—Sam Butler on Sports—abc-waf
- 5:30—C. V. Kallstrom, Talk—abc-waf
- 5:30—Canadian Traveler Series—abc-waf
- 5:30—Jim Williams and Quiz—abc-waf
- 5:30—The Williamses, News—abc-waf
- 5:30—The Aldrich Family—abc-waf
- 5:30—The Horace Heidt Show—abc-waf
- 5:30—The Grand Old Show—abc-waf
- 5:30—To Chicago Tonight, Var.—abc-waf
- 5:30—Eddie Rimer, Divis.—abc-waf
- 5:30—The Golden Gate Quartet—abc-waf
- 5:30—Bob Burns Program—abc-waf
- 5:30—Suzette & Swingin' Orchi.—abc-waf
- 5:30—Nolan Brown, News—abc-waf
- 5:30—Gabriel Heatter Comment—abc-waf
- 5:30—British War News—abc-waf
- 5:30—News—abc-waf
- 5:30—Mayhew, Variety—abc-waf
- 5:30—Concert in Miniature—abc-waf
- 5:30—Sandy Valley, Show—abc-waf
- 5:30—Dancing Music Orchestra—abc-waf
- 5:30—Glen Miller & Orchi.—abc-waf
- 5:30—Lester & Orchi.—abc-waf
- 5:30—Frank Sargeant, News—abc-waf
- 5:30—The Williamses repeat—abc-waf
- 5:30—News—abc-waf
- 5:30—Fred Waring's Dance—abc-waf
- 5:30—Dancing Music Or.—abc-waf
- 5:30—Amos and Andy's repeat—abc-waf
- 5:30—Dance Music Orchestra—abc-waf
- 5:30—Ed Hill rpt. (10 m.)—abc-waf
- 5:30—Dancing, News fill 2—abc-waf
- 5:30—Lanny Ross rpt. (15 m.)—abc-waf

CLUB FORMED TO PROMOTE SCHOOL LEVY

(Special To The Lima News) WAPAKONETA, Oct. 3 — Organization of a Two Mill Levy for School club here was announced today by Emmett Lusk, newly-elected chairman, for the purpose of promoting interest in the levy to be voted on in the Wapakoneta city school district at the coming election.

The levy is not a new one and has been in effect in the district since 1920, Lusk pointed out. The proposed levy has received the endorsement of the local Auglaize post, American Legion.

The committee that will work with Lusk in creating interest includes Mrs. J. B. Miller, Carl Werner, Levi Schlatter, Mrs. Dewey Schiell, Rev. G. P. Weisling, Rev. George Herd, Mrs. Russell Kehler, Walter Brookhart, Clarence Veit, C. K. Rockwell, Rue P. Melching.

Mrs. Harold Shuler, Mrs. Howard Bonnoron, Mrs. Earl Kent, Mrs. Oscar Erb, Dr. Clyde Berry, Cleve Davis, Mrs. Karl Kohler, Carl Abe, Dean Bitters, Mrs. Harold Brackney, Richard Brading, Adrian Kah, Jacob Koenig, Virgil McClintock, Stanley Maxson, Mrs. Earl Smith, Mrs. Cass Kohler, Iva C. Arnett and Mrs. Howard Craig.

DAMAGE ACTION FILED SIDNEY, Oct. 3 — Herbert Vance, as administrator of the estate of Carl Vance has filed an action in common pleas court against Emory C. Buckenroth, asking damages in the sum of $10,000. The suit grew out of an automobile accident a short distance north of Botkins on Jan. 3, 1940, in which Carl Vance, eight, riding a bicycle, was alleged to have been struck by an automobile driven by Buckenroth and later died in Lima Memorial hospital. A second action for $497.91 for alleged medical cost also has been filed.

JUDGE TO BE SPEAKER WAPAKONETA, Oct. 3—Harvey P. Wittenbrink, Auglaize-co probate judge, will be the principal speaker at the quarterly meeting of the Auglaize-co Township Trustees and Clerks-assn to be held Friday evening in the assembly room in the courthouse. Joseph R. Thomas of Berea, president of the state association, will be an honored guest. The cooperation between county and township officials will be the theme of Judge Wittenbrink's address.

DANCING Thursday—Friday Saturday Nights FREDDY OAKES AND HIS BAND Drinks of All Kinds Excellent Food DEVER'S RESTAURANT 119 E. Market PURE OIL DEALERS

HEARING HELD ON SIDNEY FIRM LABOR TROUBLE

SIDNEY, Oct. 3 — The hearing in the matter of the American Steel Scraper Co., and the International Association of Machinists, Lodge No. 1608, American Federation of Labor, was brought to a conclusion after a two-day session. The hearing was open to the public and was conducted before Trial Examiner William Myers of the National Labor Relations board on allegations in a complaint filed against the company with the board.

The charge made in the complaint was that the company hired new employes in place of regular employes who were laid off or fired in order to discourage membership in the union, specifically Vernon Shelby, Joseph Reading, Paul Mays and Charles Allen, whom the complaint stated the company discharged Dec. 19, 1939, in order to discourage the union and membership in the union.

Seven witnesses were examined for the local union and four for the company. Representing NLRA was Max Johnston of Washington, D. C., the A. F. of L. by A. G. Skunder of New Castle, Pa., and the company by Urban H. Doorney of Sidney. The NLRA will review the testimony offered and give a decision later.

Licensed to Marry WAPAKONETA, Oct. 3 — A marriage license was issued Wednesday in Auglaize-co probate court by Judge Harry Wittenbrink to Roy Kaeck, 28, Pasheta-tp farmer, and Miss Bessie Covey, 30, housekeeper, of this county. Rev. William Hill, pastor of Salem Evangelical church here, was named to officiate.

TONIGHT IS PAL NIGHT 2 ADULTS FOR 15c MAJESTIC We Urge Our Friends To See This Fine Program HIT NO. 1 Robert Young—Nolan Gilbert "FLORIAN" Scouts To The Rescue HIT NO. 2 Randolph Scott—Nancy Kelly "FRONTIER MARSHAL"

MEADOW GOLD PRESENTS MAGIC NUMBERS! WLOK Every Friday Afternoon at 2:30 A QUIZ PROGRAM FOR THE LISTENERS! It's easy to win! Drink Meadow Gold Homogenized—It's better than you realized!

Theatre Guide

- OHIO—"Foreign Correspondent"
- QUILNA—"Military Academy" and "Blondie Has Servant Trouble"
- SIGMA—"Tom Brown's School Days" and "Pop Always Pays"
- STATE—"Two Girls on Broadway" and "You Can't Fool Your Wife"
- LYRIC—"The Return of Frank James" and "Rocky Mountain Rangers"
- MAJESTIC—"Florida" and "Frontier Marshal"
- COMING UP
- ORIO—"City For Conquest" commences Saturday.
- QUILNA—"The Howards of Virginia" commences Friday preview.
- SIGMA—"His Old Wife" commences Saturday.
- STATE—"Andy Hardy Meets Debutante" and "The Man Who Talked Too Much" commences Sunday.
- LYRIC—"Boys of the City" and "Westbound Stage" commences Saturday midnight.
- MAJESTIC—"I Am the Law" and "Bad Lands" commences Sunday.

are featured, and such popular favorites as Eddie Collins and George Barbier.

The story of "The Return of Frank James" is the story of Frank's determination to avenge the cowardly murder of his brother Jesse, shot in the back by the traitorous Ford brothers. Railroad money and the Fords, and a gubernatorial pardon set the Fords free after a jury had convicted them, so Frank realizes the only way he can revenge Jesse is to return to outlawry.

Always maintaining a high pitch of excitement, the picture that follows Frank over all the lawless west, with tremendously stirring scenes of robbery, murder, gun-fights, man-hunts, train hold-ups, escape and pursuit.

In bringing authenticity into the melodrama of New York life "City For Conquest," which opens Saturday at the Ohio, the studio sent a location crew headed by Hyson ("Bunny") Haskins, director-camera man, and his technical force, to shoot "key" scenes about New York City.

Donald Crisp, Gagey, Ann Sheridan, Arthur Q. Brown, Arthur Kennedy and Elia Kazan take the leading roles in the New York background. Kennedy and Kazan are New York actors who were imported from their home footlights in Hollywood upon completion of the New York "key" shots, Kennedy playing Gagey's gentle natured younger brother in the picture, and Kazan, who hails from the "Group Theatre," playing "Googy," a slim boy who grows up to become a big shot racketeer, and who loses his life out of his loyalty to his boyhood chum, Gagey.

Hurry last times today and tomorrow to see "Blondie Has Servant Trouble" Also "Military Academy" 1 to 6—20c

PREVUE Tomorrow NITE Meet THE HOWARDS OF VIRGINIA Their tender emotional love is the saga of the people! Their lives are the story of America's glorious birth!

QUILNA THEATRE MAN OF THE PEOPLE... Proud of his winner, Barbara ARISTOCRACY... stubborn... yet eager to share all for the man she loves. CARY GRANT MARTHA SCOTT THE HOWARDS OF VIRGINIA

OPEN 'TIL 2:30 A. M. L. & L. GRILL 121 W. NORTH OPPOSITE THE OHIO THEATRE Specializing in Sea Foods Draft Beer Pickarel, Perch, Scallops, Trout, White Fish, Fillet of Sole. O'Donnell Haddock Medium Jumbo FROG LEGS

NOTICE OF ELECTION ON ISSUE OF BONDS

NOTICE is hereby given that in pursuance of a Resolution of the Council of the Village of Beaverdam, passed on the 17th day of September 1940, there will be held a special election on the 15th day of October, 1940, at the regular place of voting therein, on the question of issuing bonds of said Village in the amount of $20,000 for the purpose of installing a sewer system for fire protection as provided by law.

OHIO HURRY! ENDS FRIDAY! FOREIGN CORRESPONDENT JOEL McCREA and Laraine Day

STARTS SATURDAY WHAT A PICTURE... and WHAT A TEAM! Two Reckless Hearts Against the Mighty Metropolis!