

The Post Radio Time Table

1 p. m. WRC—Charles Laughton, in-town for the opening of his new film, "They Knew What They Wanted," in which he costars with Carole Lombard, takes time out from his Fifteenth Street duties for a little radio recitation.

2 p. m., WMAL—Dr. Walter Damrosch begins his thirteenth consecutive season of NBC Music Appreciation Hours. As usual, the full-hour concerts will be divided into four series of half-hour programs each, to be heard on alternate weeks. Series A and B are for younger listeners, grades 4 to 8, while C and D are suitable for junior and senior high school students. However, all four may be followed with interest.

7:30, WRC—Alec Templeton continues his prickly musicizations, featuring Songstress Mary Jane Walsh.

7:30, WJSV—Attention Greensboro, N. C., citizens: Gwendolyn Farrell, lyric soprano of your home station WBIG, sings with Al Pearce and his gang.

8, WOL—Postmaster General Frank Walker and Anthony Biddle, former Ambassador to Poland, talk under auspices of the Democratic National Committee, "Let's Make Sure It Doesn't Happen Here."

8, WJSV—Acclaimed by reviewers as one of the screen's truly great films, Eugene O'Neill's "The Long Voyage Home" is played as a radio dramlet for Kate Smith's variety hour, with Brian Aherne and Henry Hull in the roles created on the screen by Ian Hunter and Thomas Mitchell.

9, WMAL—Harry Chapman had two opportunities to redeem himself as a criminal. Gang Busters reveal how finally his debt to society was paid in full.

9:30, WRC—Arch Oboler has written an Everyman Theater play for Betty Winkler, Chicago serial actress who has carved an enviable radio career for herself since he wrote some of his early scripts for her. This one concerns psychological twists appropriate to the approaching Halloween.

9:30, WOL—Joan Blondell and husband Dick Powell play a new serial of their latest film, "I Want a Divorce."

10, WMAL—No title is at stake, but Billy Conn, light-heavyweight champ, fights into a new division with Al McCoy, New England heavy-weight champ, in Boston.

10, WJSV—Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, who has frequently supported President Roosevelt, speaks for the Republican National Committee on "The Third Term Issue."

10:30, WOL and WJSV—Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes makes a speech and what do you suppose he's going to talk about?
