Davidson, Retired Pastor, Observes 92nd Birthday

THE REV. J. N. DAVIDSON

The Rev. John Nelson Davidson, a retired Congregational clergyman living at 1413 Mound st., observed his 92nd birthday anniversary at the potluck supper in Pilgrim Congregational church Monday night, as a guest of Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Wallace. He is in excellent health and often talks of his boyhood experiences in the Civil war.

West Point Chief

Brig. Gen. Eichelberger

Brigadier General Robert L. Eichelberger, commandant of the Presidio in San Francisco, has been appointed superintendent of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. He succeeds Major General J. L. Benedict, who will take command of one of the four newly formed army corps.

Big wig Clamor for Madeleine

By JOHN L. STEELE

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—A number of normally dignified gentlemen whose preoccupation has been with the figures on inventory columns and profit statements are more interested today in the curves of Madeleine Carroll and Paulette Goddard.

The gentlemen are members of Chicago's State St. council, multi-million-dollar businessmen's organization, and it all started when the council decided to sponsor a Hollywood-style movie premiere.

They invited Cecil B. De Mille to bring his $2,000,000 technicolor film "North West Mounted Police" here for its first U. S. showing Thursday. Paramount pictures said sure—and it would send Misses Carroll and Goddard, Gary Cooper, Preston Foster, Robert Preston, Lynn Overman, and other stars along with it.

Some of the more enterprising members of the council immediately decided that Miss Carroll and Miss Goddard should be escorted personally—by them. Under a flood of applications, the committee in charge finally announced that no further applications for the job of escorting Madeleine and Paulette need be filed; uniformed Eagle Boy Scouts would be drafted.

But did that stop the enterprising volunteers? Chicago's business was not fabricated by men of no imagination Things progressed to the point where Pres. David S. Mayer, Jr., of the council was compelled to announce that the Eagle Scouts would not accept bald-headed volunteers for one-night membership.

Some of the members thought they saw an "in" when a press agent asked them to pose in North West mountie uniforms on Chicago police department horses. They announced they would pose—if they were permitted to form a mounted escort for Madeleine and Paulette in the premiere parade. The publicity department said it would think about it but how many of them knew how to ride a horse?

◇ ◇ ◇

One of them said he did. He was Thomas H. Egelton, an executive of the Sears Roebuck and Co., who averred he had been a cowboy 40 years ago. They let him put on Gary Cooper's Texas ranger suit and he said he sure enough felt like escorting the Misses Carroll and Goddard and Gary Cooper would have to come along in his store clothes.

Pegler Says 'Fair Enough'

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

PEGLER

NEW YORK More alarming than the raw graft and the snarling dishonesty of the New Deal politicians who are promoting an Americanized version of Adolf Hitler's National Socialism while professing to detest this evil thing, is the corruption of the civil morals of an unknown proportion of the people.

The exploitation of the presidential office for family enrichment, the collusion of the sanctimonious high-command with the most notorious vote-stealing and grafting machines in the country and the profanation of the sacred mission of national succor are, of themselves, frightening. The New Deal has stolen from the people and used primarily for its own political purposes and only incidentally for humane purposes more money than all the swindlers stole during the era of wonderful nonsense.

Even in the very White house itself individuals have been appointed to synthetic jobs at high salaries only because they have been relatives or personal or political friends, and with only the most frivolous pretense that their services were required and were worth the money.

Yet some individuals concede all this to be true and still ask, in effect, "Do you know anything bad about them?"

In other words, some proportion of the people now accept crookedness as the standard in high positions of national trust and, being so degraded, themselves by the influence of important personalities, feel that criticism of the administration on this score, is a personal criticism of themselves.

How many Americans are so infected it is impossible to say, but my own correspondence, which provides a sampling of opinion, certainly proves that their number is not negligible.

I receive letters which hold that acts which would be wrong if committed by other persons and heinous if they were committed by a member of the family of Wendell Willkie are right if committed by a member of the New Deal family circle, and that any disapproval of such conduct by such a person is an expression of disloyalty to the United States and of disrespect for the presidential office.

◇ ◇ ◇

There is a famous quotation from a statement which President Roosevelt uttered when he was governor of New York which runs as follows:

"How about the larger number of public officials who are honest in the sense that they cannot be put in jail but who are dishonest in the sense that they commit acts which are ethically or morally wrong?

"What of a public official who allows a member of his family to obtain fees or benefits through his political influence?"

That was the national standard of civic morality in October, 1929, when Mr. Roosevelt said it, but the citation of it has become an insult to his office in the years since then, because his own words taunt and plague him and his idolators.

He and Ickes and Hopkins are found in close political collaboration with the Hague and Kelly-Nash gangs, each led by a man whose income from sources which neither man has been willing to disclose vastly exceed their official salaries, and whose rule had poisoned the citizenship of their communities with tolerance of graft and indifference to corruption.

And merely to pluck out of the president's statement of the principles which he held in 1929 that single sentence scorning the type of public official who permits members of his family to obtain fees or benefits through his political influence is to smear him unjustly in the eyes of those citizens who have strayed with him and the New Deal from the moral position which once was, theoretically, at least, the standards for the nation.

This is not to say, of course, that everyone who votes for Mr. Roosevelt can be accused of indorsing this moral decline. Some will vote for him for other reasons and in spite of the example, but, unquestionably, many Americans have allowed themselves to be persuaded that crookedness and cunning in politics and the exploitation of office for great financial gain, having the color of legality but the odor of dishonesty, represents the American standard and may be applied to every other phase of American life.
