STORIES . IN STAMPS

Europe's Stamp Future Is Philatelic Puzzle

HITLER is making almost as great a jumble of European stamps as he is the map of Europe. The Third Republic of France ended philatelically with the semi-postal iscue above, one of two designs with surtax for the Red Cross. A new issue, pichas been announced.

The conquered nations of the west - Holland, Belgium, Denmark, Norway-have continued to use their own stamps. Belgium lost Eupen and Malmedy, and Germany released two pictorials proclaiming the return of former German possessions. German issues are also in use in Alsace and Lorraine.

Hungary and Rumania fought a "war of stamps" over Transylvania, and Hungary has already issued a single item heralding return of the province. Rumania. also has a flood of King Carol II issues on hand that must be replaced.

Practically forgotten is the Balkan Entente, honored this yearby four sets of the signatories of the pact. The promised, but never issued, Anglo-French stamp is a thing of the past.

War plays havoc with stamp albums, too.
