East-West Best Cause

By GEORGE KIRKSEY NEW YORK-(U.P)-There are football games and then there's the Shrine game at San Francisco every New Year's day. If the reason for the game is taken into consideration then it is the football game of the year.

All the proceeds other than expenses are donated to Shriners' highe hospital for crippled children. In the 15 years that the game's been Und played a total of $600,000 has been turned over to the hospital, Profits from the 1939 game were enough to build a swimming pool especially adapted for the treat-ment of infantile paralysis pa-

W. M. Coffman, San Francisco, who has been the managing di-rector of the game since it started Dec. 26, 1925, is in the east to confer with the east's two coaches, Bernie Bierman of Minnesota and Andy Kerr of Colgate. The west's team is coached by Babe Hollingberry of Washington State and Maj. Biff Jones of Nebraska.

Coffman believes this year's cast will top anything the East-West game has offered up to now. Although the complete rosters haven't been selected yet such players as Tommy Harmon of Michigan, Paul Christman of Missouri, Rudy Mucha of Washington will be present.

Coffman tells me that the day it was announced Harmon would play for the East, the sponsors sold 8,000 tickets.

One of the pre-game features of the East-West game will be a radio interview between Tommy Harmon and Frank Brennan. You don't know who Brennan is? He's the fellow who popped out of the stands at Berkeley, Calif., last September and tried to tackle Total of 97,000,000 pounds of Harmon on one of his touchdown Wisconsin milk was used to pro- dashes in the 41-0 route of Catt-duce 9,260,000 pounds of Italian fornia. Sure enough when Harmon broke away again Brennan went after him. Brennan wasn't any better than the California players | The coaches didn't know whether and Harmon ran right over him

The players who participate in the players who participate in the players and with the game are all seniors, and with few exceptions are through with intercollegiate athletics. The sponsors entertain the players lavishly, taking them on a trip to Holly-weed after the game. gels of California started off on his famous "wrong way" run, Butch Nowack, Illinois tackle who played for the East, turned to Coffman and said: "Next year, Mr. Coff-man you ought to give the players compasses instead of wrist watches." Although most of the players train hard for the game, there was one All-American from the mid-west who frightened the sponsors out of their wits back in 1930. The heralded player broke training the night before the game and did the town. He came home about 5 a. in. to let him play or not. But they did and he was the outstanding star of the game, leading his team, the East, to a 19-7 victory.
