Uncle Ray's Corner That is true. Various meats contain vitamins, and with other foods they help make up the supply which every person needs to live a healthy life.

The term "vitamins" is in widespread use today, and it is well to remember that a human being needs many kinds, not just one or two. The vitamin which is hardest to get in ordinary foods is vitamin D, so it is very fortunate that the world has two things: sunshine and the Steenbock process which places vitamin D in
