Morgan And Billie Burke Co-Star In Sigma Picture

"Li'l Abner" And "Wild Man Of Borneo" Open Wednesday: "The Son Of Monte Cristo" Ends On Tuesday

Providing the entertainment appeal of a robust comedy , romance, "Lift Abner," screen version of Al Capp's popular newspaper comic page feature, now brings all of the fantastic Dospatch characters into life, in the film commencing Wednesday at the Sigma theatre. Frank Morgan and Billie Burke are the comedy team of the second feature.

"Wild Man of Borneo." Showing for the final times Tuesday is "The Son of Monte Cristo."

Topping the brilliant feature cast of "Tall, Dark and Handsome," exciting new hit at the Quilna theatre are Cesar Romere. Virginia Gilmore. Milton Berle and Charlotte Greenwood. In addition to several song hits by Miss Gilmore the film packs plenty of laughs. The co-feature. "Golden Hoefs" features Jane Withers in a singing dancing role with Charles (Buddy) Rogers.

The thrilling Arabian Nights story, "The Thief of Bagdad" provides State theatre patrons with excitement and fantasy in the tale of the flying corpet, the Djinni of the bettle, the magic army and other famous incidents. Stars of the film are Sabu, Corrnd Vehilt. June Duprer and John Justin. The co-feature. "Christmas in July," stars Dick Powell and Eilen Drew.

Melvyn Douglas and Rosalind Russell are the stars of the Lyric matrimonial comedy. 'This Thing Called Love," the hilarious experiences of a married couple who attempts a new theory in matrimony. Binine Barnes, Al Joslyn and Gloria Dickson are featured in the supporting cast. Gene Raystars of the second attraction, Vic Potel, "Cross Country Love," the story his heiress sweetheart.

role! He plays the part of a gay blade of the nineties who falls in love with two honeys, played by Olivia de Havilland and Rita Hayworth, in the comedy film -"Strawberry Blonde," which is new at the Ohio theatre. It is a lively comedy packed with humor and romance of a boy who loses the girl he loves to a successful business man and marries another girl in his attempt to forget the first.

Cagney plays the role of the fellow who is eaught between two loves, Rita and Olivia, while Jack Carson is cast as the go-getterwho wins Carney's first romance. Alan Hale and George Tobias also play prominent comedy roles.

"Lil Abner" has come to life in just plain levely" but can't get him to make love, and all the Parker, other fantastic characters of fantastic Dogpatch, he steps right out of the funny papers onto the motion picture screen at the Sigma Wednesday. The millions who have read "Lill Abner's" daily adventures, probably never thought that the movies could ever duplicate those fantastic characters created by Artist Al Capp. But a remarkable job of experitype easting has been zchieved by the studio. All of the Dognatch felk have been diplicated in the flesh.

Lill About himself, all six-footthree of him, lives in the person of Granville Owen, who has the height and broad shoulders just as Capp drew him. He looks fully capable of performing all of Abner's leats of strength, and once was heavyweight boxing champion of the Preific coast. Daisy Mac is the young and lovely Martha Driscoil. No makeup was needed for her, either, to equal Mr. Capp's pen. Make-up. of course, was called into play to produce pint-sized Pappy and Manimy, enacted by Johnnie Morris and Mona Ray, the mountain ous Earthouake McGoon, page trayed by Charles A. Recently Romero got his first real haircut in thirteen months for his leading featured role as dapper man about town in "Tall, Dark and Handsome" which is now at the Quilna theatre. Previmusly, his tresses were exceedingly long, in keeping with his appearances on the screen as the Cisco Kid.

Following "Tall, Dark and Handsome," which also features Virginia Gilmore, Milton Berle and Charlotte Greenwood, Cesar's hair will have to grow mighty fast so he can be ready for another Cisco Kid production schoduled to begin soon.

After that Romero must prepare for his role with Tyrone: Power in "Blood and Sand," For: his portrayal of a famous toreador, Cesar must have his locks in condition to permit a "coleta" type
