MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Don Padgett, the St. Louis Cardinals' man of many positions, may go back where he started—the outfield. With Johnny Mize in the fold, there's no need for Padgett to learn first-baseing and the backstopping of young Walker Cooper and the veteran Gus Mancuso has just about decided Manager Billy Southworth to return Padgett to the garden.

LAKELAND, Fla.—The Cincinnati Reds' camp looks more like a convalescent ward than a place where athletes are getting into condition but all hands report they're getting better. Ernie Lombardi trotted about a quarter mile on his injured ankle yesterday; Paul Derringer phoned from his home that he'll be ready to get back into uniform about Monday while Bill Werber says his leg is ready to hold him up in today's game against Detroit.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Two of the most important New York Yankees, Joe DiMaggio and Charley (Red) Ruffing, were scheduled to make their seasonal debuts in competition against the Cardinals today. Both were late in reaching camp because of salary disputes and DiMaggio was further hampered by a sore shoulder.

MIAMI, Fla.—Cleveland's Indians don't lack explanations for their consistently poor batting in "grapefruit league" games. They say they haven't had enough time for batting practice, due to their bus-jumping exhibition schedule.
