OHIO

Two of the largest indoor sets ever used in a motion picture were constructed for that company's new laugh picture, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello and Dick Powell "In the Navy," the current attraction at the Ohio theatre. One was a reproduction of a section of the grounds surrounding the Royal Palms hotel in Honolulu. The other was a 600-foot battleship.

More than 200 truckloads of dirt and sod, sixty huge palm trees, scores of banana trees and hundreds of flowering shrubs and plants were hauled onto one of the stages for the building of the hotel gardens, in which the lullu sequence was "shot." Forty hula dancers and 60 Hawaiian singers and musicians worked in support of the Andrews Sisters in this sequence.

The battleship scene, which required the services of more than 300 featured and atmosphere players, was complete with hull, decks, superstructure and gun turrets. It was constructed from blueprints furnished Universal's art director, Jack Otterson, by the Navy department in Washington.

SIGMA

"Affectionately Yours," a gay new romantic comedy headed by the triple star cast of Merle Oberon, Dennis Morgan and Rita Hayworth, is at the Sigma theatre. Lloyd Bacon directed the film, from the script by Edward Kaufman, based on a story by Panya Foss and Alec Leslie.

Morgan (he was Kitty Foyle's boy friend, remember?) is seen as a philandering foreign correspondent who dashes home from Portugal to stop his wife from divorcing him to marry another man. Merle Oberon plays his wife and Rita Hayworth is cast as a fellow correspondent who would like to be his wife. Other cast members include Ralph Bellamy, George Tobias, James Gleason, Hattie McDaniel and Butterfly McQueen.

A three-way romance between a fiery Latin heiress, a young American engineer and a handsome Buenos Aires sportsman, is the basis of "They Met in Argentina," at the Sigma, featuring Maureen O'Hara, James Ellison, Alberto Vila, Buddy Ebsen and Diana Costello.

Said to be one of the season's most entertaining films, the offering is also hailed as a convincing picture of life in the Argentine republic, presenting a colorful pageant of native dances and games as background to the gay action and sprightly tunes of the production.

Ellison plays the engineer, whose rich Texas employer orders him to buy a famous racehorse from his haughty Argentine owner. Miss O'Hara is the owner's spirited daughter, and the new Latin "find," Alberto Vila, is seen in his American debut as Ellison's gallant rival, in this lavish production by Lou Brock for RKO Radio.

The conflict between romance and duty, and the old Argentine's plans for his daughter's happiness are interwoven to make a stirring plot that is rich in comedy as well
