

"Caught In The Draft," War Picture, Now Showing At Ohio

Double Billings Are Current At Quilna, State And Lyric; New Films Due At Sigma Wednesday

Currently creating hilarity at the Ohio theatre is a comedy version of conscription's lighter side, "Caught in the Draft," starring Bob Hope as the dizziest, bluest rookie in the whole Army.

When an insurance police guarantees $200,000 to one of a group of 11 who survives all the rest, there is bound to be a little "phenagling" to change Nature's normal course of events.

And this is the state of affairs of "Murder Among Friends," currently at the Quilna theatre and starring Marjorie Weaver and John Hubbard.

"Ziegfeld Girl," currently at the State theatre, stars James Stewart, Judy Garland, Hedy Lamarr and Lana Turner, in a story based on the experiences of girls who once were "glorified" by the great showman, Ziegfeld.

The Marx Brothers tackle a new field for their latest hilarity hit, "Go West," currently at the Lyric theatre.

Hubbard, Cobina Wright, Jr., and many others are also featured. A new high in entertainment, the side-splitting show, "Scramby Amby" will be staged at the Ohio theatre at Lima on Friday, July 18.

As their answer to the desire of the public for an opportunity to laugh long and loudly in these times, the Marx Brothers offer their merriest fun-fest, "Go West," which is now at the Lyric theatre.

The Kings of Comedy spent nearly a year in developing their new story, which unfolds an uproarious farce, taking place in the Colorado gold country of 1870.

The comedy was tested for best laughs thru 103 performances at the Marxes and a full cast before theatre audiences, before being played before the cameras.

Supporting the stars is a stellar cast, including John Carroll, Dina Lewis, Walter Wolf King and Robert Barrat.

The plot is an exciting one about the mad antics of the Marx Brothers in foiling a group of villains and slugs from stealing a valuable deed to land from the hero and heroine.

While the plot is well rounded, everything is played for laughs, with many of the most hilarious scenes the Marx Brothers have ever had.

In addition there is plenty of music, with a piano solo by Chico, a harp number by Harpo, songs by Carroll, Miss Lewis and Groucho, and a "Can-Can" dance by a dozen lovely chorines.

He knew his rope tricks, but she knew her man, and the rough-riding puncher became a docile cowboy in "The Cowboy and the Blonde," which is now at the Quilna theatre.

Blonde Mary Beth Hughes and brawny good-looking George Montgomery play the featured roles to perfection in this story of the not-so-wild West versus the plenty glamorous Hollywood.

It's hilarious and it's fascinating to watch this bronco buster try to tame a temperamental movie star.

This production includes those outstanding actors Alan Mowbray, Robert Conway, John Miljan, Richard Lane, and Robert Emmett Keane.

Lots of superstitious people believe a bad start means bad luck. But not Marjorie Weaver! If she were superstitious she'd have asked producers to excuse her from the cast of "Murder Among Friends," which is also at the Quilna theatre.

On the first day of shooting, Marjorie started the day off with a flat tire on the way to work. On the set of the comedy-mystery she bumped into a lamp and upset it.

Marjorie went on to score in "Murder Among Friends," John

A new high in entertainment, the side-splitting show, "Scramby Amby" will be staged at the Ohio theatre at Lima on Friday, July 18.

"Scramby Amby" is a new game that has become a sensation overnight, because it's a game for everyone.

It is strictly entertainment that "pays off" in laughter and cash awards. All it requires are words, people, and Ray Shannon.

The words are fairly simple, ones that most people use every day. The words are all mixed up to form new, meaningless words.

An old-timer in the field of entertainment, Shannon, has played the spotlight circuit from coast to coast in vaudeville and travelling road shows.

He can still make them laugh as he did in road shows with Al Johnson, W. C. Fields, Wallace Berry, George Arliss and other outstanding entertainers.

The vocalists, 5 radio singers, will furnish the music for the program.
