QUILNA

Combining comedy, romance and mystery, "For Beauty's Sake" opens Friday at the Quilna theatre. The fast-moving film is based on Clarence Budington Kelland's grand American Magazine story which entertained thousands of readers.

The experiences of a handsome woman-hater who is handed a swank beauty salon are told in 'For Beauty's Sake," which has a fine featured cast headed by Ned Sparks, Marjorie Weaver, Tea North and Joan Davis.

The fun gets under way quickly when woman-hater Ted North assumes ownership of a beauty salon in a hotel for women.
