In the new glorified and streamlined version of "Sunny," the celebrated musical comedy hit, Anna Neagle, in the title role, appears as the star of a small circus carnival playing New Orleans during the Mardi Gras. Others in the cast of the film, now at the Sigma theatre, are Ray Bolger, John Carroll and Edward Everett Horton.

"The Bride Wore Crutches," currently at the Quilna theatre, offers the story of a cub reporter who is fired for fumbling two great scoops. His sweetheart, an experienced newspaper gal, helps him back into the good graces of the boss. Lynne Roberts and Ted North are the stars. Co-featured is "Dance Hall," starring Cesar Romero and Carole Landis.

The Ohio film, "The Shepherd of the Hills," stars John Wayne, Betty Field and Harry Carey in the thrilling and dramatic story of a mountain feud in which a mountaineer has taken a blood oath to kill his father. Others in the cast of the film version of Harold Bell Wright's novel include Beulah Bondi, James Bartin, Samuel S. Hinds, Marjorie Main and Ward Bond.

Joan Crawford and Melvyn Douglas are the leading players in the State's "A Woman's Face," a psychological study of a woman who wants her beauty restored but to whom the restoration leads a series of misfortunes. Co-featured is "Here Comes Happiness."

Showing for the last times Monday at the Majestic are "Texas Rangers Ride Again" and "A Night at Earl Carroll's."

SIGMA
The exciting adventures of a beautiful circus dancer in New Orleans during the colorful Mardi Gras season, and her whirlwind romance with a gay blade from an aristocratic Southern family, represent the sparkling dual-theme of Anna Neagle's newest musical vehicle, "Sunny," now at the Sigma.

Based on the sensational Broadway hit of the same name, and retaining such hitting tunes as "Who?" "Sunny," "Dy-a Love Me?" and "Two Little Blue Birds," the RKO Radio film presents the lovely Miss Neagle in the title role of the captivating carnival girl. John Carroll has the masculine lead opposite the star, playing the role of the wealthy New Orleans socialite who falls in love at first sight with Sunny when they are caught up in the whirl and gaiety of Mardi Gras crowd, and who, against family objections finally marches her to the altar.

Ray Bolger, New York dance sensation; Edward Everett Horton and the world-famous dancing Hartmans are cast in their principal roles and display their particular talents in such fashion as to make "Sunny" one of the brightest, most spectacular musical films brought to the screen in recent years, and certainly Anna Neagle's most delightful vehicle.

QUILNA
A steady stream of laughs greeted "Dance Hall," the new comedy romance which is at the Quilna theatre.

Cesar Romero, in the same type of role he did so well in "Tall, Dark and Handsome," scores another personal triumph as Duke, the local Casanova who thought all women had to fall for him. Carole Landis is excellent as the pretty singer who makes Duke doubt his own ability as a lady killer. It's a knock-down-drag-out romance that's tops in entertainment.

The supporting cast, features William Henry, June Storey and J. Edward Bromberg.

"Hard Luck" Dixon, cub reporter with the inside track on trouble in "The Bride Wore Crutches," is entertaining movie fans at the Quilna theatre—and how! This fast-paced film features Lynne Roberts as the star newspaper gal who risks her pretty neck to save the cub—played by Ted North.

Geared for laughs and action and full of crisp, crackling dialogue and clever situations, the film speeds into a suspenseful surprise climax which must be seen for complete enjoyment. Others featured in the superlative cast include Edgar Kennedy, Robert Armstrong, Lionel Stander and Richard Lane.

OHIO
A motion picture audience was held practically spellbound by the grip of one of the finest stories of American fiction, as the Technicolor film version of Harold Bell Wright's novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills," unraveled at the Ohio theatre.

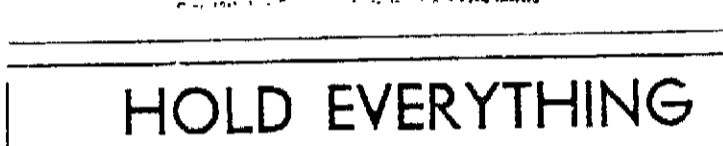

Produced, acted and directed in the spirit of the original tale of the Ozarks, "The Shepherd of the Hills" unleashes the strong drama and exciting romance that thrilled millions of readers as a novel. It is headed straight for the hit division of motion pictures.

Starring John Wayne, Betty Field and Harry Carey, the new romantic drama was directed by Henry Hathaway, the man responsible for that other great out-

CATTELMEN TO RECORD PROFIT FOR '41 SEASON

Good Consumer Demand Keeps Prices Up Despite Near Record Slaughter

By WILLIAM LOCHNER
CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Altho cattle prices have receded considerably from January peaks and only recently turned somewhat higher, again, livestock experts believe that cattlemen will net the largest cash income in years from their marketings provided consumer demand continues good and prices continue to average higher than in 1940.

Unusually good consumer demand is evidenced in maintenance of higher values than a year ago in the face of the second largest sixth month slaughter on record, which was exceeded only by the six month period of 1918. The 1941 sixth month total was 4,911,911 head which was exceeded in 1918 by only a few thousand.

BREEDING STOCK TRADE IS HEAVY
Confidence of cattle producers in continued good demand and prices is apparent in the trade in registered breeding stock. The American Aberdeen-Angus association reports that during the first half of the year 3,629 head of this type of cattle were sold at close to $1,000,000 with the average price per head $11 higher than in 1940.

Despite the good consumer demand, traders, however, are not fully satisfied and point to records which show that in 1918 when beef production was slightly higher than in the current year, the country had 25,000,000 or one-fifth fewer people than now.

Other factors contributing to better price levels of cattle have been the buying program of beef for the army and navy forces, as well as better prices being paid for hides which this year have averaged nearly two cents per pound above year ago values.

The United States Department of Agriculture, moreover, reports that western range feed conditions are the best since 1926. Livestock prices have advanced relative to feed prices during the past few months, and livestock-feed price ratios are now much more favorable to producers than in 1940 and are expected to continue so.

SLIGHT DOWNTURN IN PAST WEEK
High temperatures leading to a sluggish dressed market dragged most livestock values downward this week, heavy and big weight steers losing 50 to as much as 75 cents. The downturn hit all grades and representative weights except

OUTDOOR LIFE IS PRAISED BY VICTOR MOORE

Veteran Comedian, Nearing 66, Still Hopes To Make Good In Movies

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 2.—Victor Moore said, "I am 66—but don't tell anybody."

Moore was joking, as usual. He is proud to be 66, or almost so, and he tells everybody who listens. Actually he is 65; he won't be 66 until next February.

Moore has spent most of his years being funny, entertaining people. But that isn't how he has stayed young. He has a round, jovial face with very few lines and he keeps pleasantly sun tanned by staying out of doors as much as possible.

He stays outdoors mainly to fish. He would like to be fishing this summer, off Long Island, but: "I am gladly giving up my summer vacation for another chance to make good in Hollywood."

He came here to play the same part in the movie that he played on the stage in "Louisiana Purchase."

The fact that Moore has not made good in the movies on several previous tries worries him not at all. The fishing is better, he believes, in the Atlantic than it is in the Pacific. But Pacific fishing will do, if that's the best to be had.

"You don't get old by fishing and keeping young," said Moore. "I don't worry and I eat lightly and I don't drink much. As much as possible, I try to associate with young people."

Moore says he joined a club a few years ago composed of actors and actresses of his own age with whom he had worked in vaudeville. Many were even younger than he. "But I never saw so many old people," he complained. "They were shriveled. I finally quit the club; I didn't feel like one of them."

One habit Moore never got into, so common among stage folk, is that of eating the heavy meal around midnight.

The only time Moore ever was ill was once a few years ago when he got food poisoning.
