

One Man's Family And 'Flying Blind' Featured Friday

Claudia And David Experience Auction And Jean Parker And Richard Arlen Star In Drama

Young ladies who don't know much about furniture auctions and the way they are run will profit from the hectic experiences of Claudia during the 10th "Claudia and David" broadcast over WABC Friday at 7 p. m.

Jean Parker and Richard Arlen will be starred in the radio dramatization of their recently completed film, "Flying Blind" on the Hollywood Premiere program Friday, 8:30 p. m. over WABC. Felix Mills' orchestra and an all-star radio cast will support the stars.

"Ladies of the Jury," comedy force which starred the great actress, Minnie Maddern Fiske, will be revived for radio by Charles Martin and will be heard on "Great Moments From Great Plays" over WABC Friday, at 8 p. m. Ray Block and his 21-piece orchestra supply background music. Nelson Case and Johnny the Call Boy announce.

The world's largest rosebush, which blooms in the ghost town of Tombstone, Ariz., will form the basis for the Old Farmer's treasury during his "Death Valley Days" program over WJZ, Friday at 7:30 p. m.

A man by the name of Frank Bailey takes an unexpected detour when "Uncle Walter's Dog House" is aired Friday over WABC at 8:30 p. m. Frank is entering a photo contest in the Home and Garden Magazine and his wife, Julia, whose hobby is gardening, insists that Frank take her picture among the pansies and enter it.

Works by the French composer, Bizet, will serve as curtain raiser for the "Cities Service" program of Friday at 7:00 p. m. over WEAJ. The orchestra under Dr. Frank Black will open with the "Fandango" from the popular "L'Arlesienne Suite" and Lucille Blumers, soprano, will sing the spirited "Habanera" from the Bizet opera, "Carmen."

HELP EXTENDED IN EYE SURGERY

Group Organized to Preserve Corneas Bequeathed by Members

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—(UPI)—The Dawn Society, an organization whose members bequeath the corneas of their eyes, at death, to an "eye bank" has been launched here with 40 charter members by the International Order of Good Templars.

The society is an outgrowth of eye specialists' success in development of a technique for grafting the cornea of a person, who has just died, to the eye of a living person, whose sight is impaired. The difficulty, thus far, has been the scarcity of corneas. To overcome this, Dawn Society will undertake to expand their "eye bank" in much the same way blood banks are built by obtaining blood from voluntary donors, preparing it for injection and storing the prepared blood for future use.

For the surgery, it is necessary that the cornea be removed within six hours after death and grafted as soon as possible to the eye of the recipient. To facilitate this, the organization will seek, first, to obtain as many pledges as possible, and then, compile a list of applicants. As corneas become available, they will be prepared for grafting and sent to the beneficiary atop the numerical list of applicants.

Under Dawn Society regulations, pledges of corneas are made independent of final wills and testaments, and legalized by the society, to prevent possible disputes. It is expected this movement, initiated in San Francisco, Oakland, and other large California cities, eventually will spread to other states.

DEATH CLAIMS NOTED LAWYER AT CLEVELAND

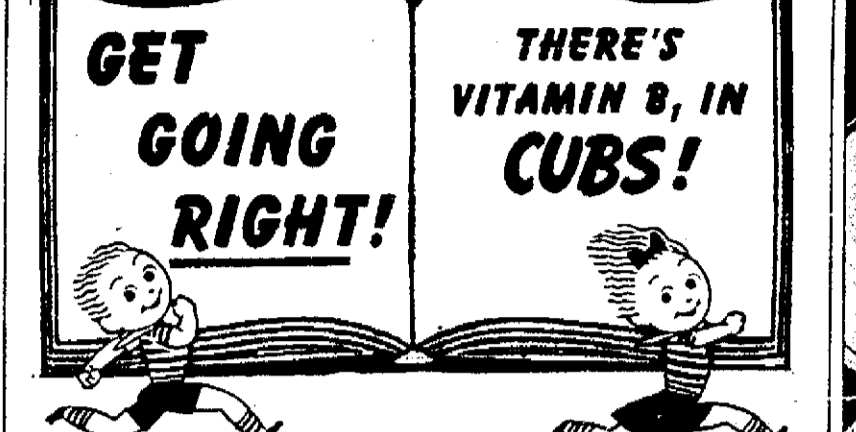

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Stricken with a paralytic stroke a year ago, David R. Wilkin, 63, prominent corporation and trial lawyer of Cleveland, was dead today at his Cleveland Heights home of coronary thrombosis.

Brother of Federal Judge Robert N. Wilkin, and a native of New Philadelphia, Wilkin specialized in corporate law practice. He was the son of the late James Foster Wilkin of New Philadelphia, once an Ohio supreme court judge. He was graduated from the University of Virginia law school after his primary education in New Philadelphia schools, and started practicing law with his father. He held the office of prosecuting attorney of Tuscarawas county from 1905 until he came to Cleveland to join the firm of Klinge Tolles and Marley. Later he joined his brother, Wilbur, in a law partnership and still later one with his nephew, John, after his brother's death.

Wilkin was a 33rd-degree Mason and a director of four financial houses. His daughter, Mrs. Roger P. Marshall; two sons, David of Charlestown, and Charles, a sister and three other brothers survive.

Hundreds of years ago, a form of baseball was played in China.
