Waunakee Friends Honor J. V. Chval, Veteran Teacher

WAUNAKEE — School associates and other friends this week honored Dr. J. F. Chval, veteran Waunakee teacher, for the 19 years he devoted to instructing music to boys and girls in the Waunakee area.

A dinner was served with approximately 75 guests present at the John Michels home to honor Dr. Chval, who starting teaching music in Waunakee high school in 1922 and retired this year. Pupils knew his patience and kindliness as part of his music course. Members of the group presented a gift to him. Guests included:

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Albrecht and family, Sheboygan; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Prohaska and family, Montfort; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Pollock and family, Lake Geneva; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stevenson and family, Pine River; Mr. and Mrs. James Hildebrandt, Madison; Lela Stephens, Mt. Horeb; Dora Cunningham, Hazel Wolfe, and John Steiner, Stevens Point; Beulah Barnett, Reedsburg; Ruby Learman, Oostburg; Charlotte Campion and Mr. McNally, Green Bay; David Helmick, Tomahawk; Clarence Sievert, East Chicago, Ind.; Bernice Rohr, Dodgeville;

Mr. and Mrs. L. Tobnn and family, Madison; Mr. and Mrs. A. O'Keefe and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Kenney, Mr. and Mrs. John Michels, Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Koltes, Mr. and Mrs. John Klingelhofer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Karle, Mrs. Carrie Shaw, Mrs. Mattie O'Malley, Mrs. Ada Hochstein, Mrs. Neil Simon, Jonas Reis, and David Doll, all of Madison.

Coal Slide Buries U. W. Employe, But He's Only Bruised

A bruised right arm was the only injury suffered by Kermit Hanson, 27, Burr Oaks Hill, who was buried in 20 tons of coal at the University of Wisconsin heating plant Friday.

Other workmen said Hanson was unloading a car of coal at the rear of the plant when the coal swept him into a pit under the car.

Workmen shut off the supply of coal, which had buried Hanson and piled up a foot over his head. They dug him out, unconscious, and rushed him to Wisconsin General hospital. He was released after treatment of a "burned" arm.

Veronica Lake Gives Birth to Girl

HOLLYWOOD — (U.P.) — Film star Veronica Lake, who gave birth to a six pound, two ounce daughter shortly before Thursday midnight, was reported to be "resting comfortably" in Good Samaritan hospital Friday.

She is the wife of John Detlie, studio art director. They eloped last Sept. 26, after she completed work in "I Wanted Wings."

Baritone Barry Wood, singing master of ceremonies on Columbia network's Millions for Defense, sets off for a day of fishing. Summer radio duties keep Barry close to New York, so he's taken a place at nearby Lake Hopatcong, in New Jersey, where he goes between broadcasts.

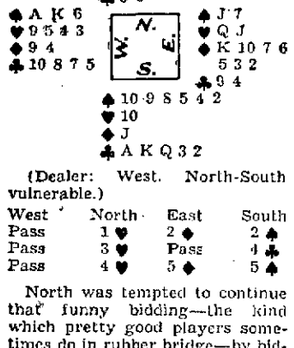
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

DON'T SEND A BOY

"DON'T SEND a boy on a man's errand" is an often-heard admonition at the bridge table when a player ruffs a trick with such a small trump that his opponent is able to over-ruff it. All of us have seen careless declarers do this, when they have enough high trumps to spare one and eliminate the danger of an over-ruff. In fact, I wonder who among us has not done it himself.



(Dealer: West. North-South vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♥	2 ♠	2 ♠
Pass	3 ♥	Pass	4 ♣
Pass	4 ♥	5 ♦	5 ♠

North was tempted to continue that funny bidding—the kind which pretty good players sometimes do in rubber bridge—by bidding 6-Hearts, but it is a good thing he didn't. Or at least it should have been a good thing, for South had a chance to make his contract.

West led the diamond 9, and the declarer refused to finesse, because of East's bids, and came right up with the A. Wishing to send a spade toward the Q, he came to his hand with the club 6 to the A and led the spade 10, which the A took. West offered the diamond 4 to the 8, 10 and a ruff by the spade 2. The spade 4 was taken by the K, dropping the Q and J, and the heart 3 returned to the A. The club J was scored, the heart K for a club discard and the diamond Q led, covered by the K.

South ruffed that with the spade 5, and was discombobulated to see West put on the spade 6. At the time South had the spade 8 and 9, both of which were high. He could have ruffed that diamond with either of those and used the other to drop the 6, leaving the rest of his hand good. We wonder how long it will be before he forgets that terrific play.

Your Week-End Lesson

If your partner bids the same suit three times, does that show he insists on the hand being played in that suit? Does the fact that he used a forcing jump the first time make his three bids oblige you to let him play it in that suit? If not, what does a series of three consecutive bids of the same suit show? And what should you do about it after you hear his third bid?

Carroll St. Tracks to Come Out After All

Three air compressor drills, operating in concert, created an incessant din Friday as removal of car tracks on S. Carroll st. was resumed after a two-day delay caused by failure of a power shovel to budge the concrete and granite rail bed.

Schwerm Bros., contractors, for removal of the capitol square rails, decided to proceed rather than adopt the alternative of paving the entire width of the street over the rails, City Engineer T. F. Harrington announced.

The cement in the rail zone will be chipped out to a depth of three inches and the remainder will be used for the new sheet asphalt crown. The rails will be cut out with acetylene torches, Harrington said.

Query Local Draft Boards, Wilde Says

Selective service classification questions should be directed to local boards, Walter Wilde, state director of selective service, reminded registrants, their dependents and employers Friday.

Communications on classification matters addressed to state or national headquarters are sent back to the proper local boards, Wilde said, because only those boards can act upon individual cases until they have been classified, and appeal from a classification must be made through local boards.

"While both state and national headquarters have sympathetic regard for each individual registrant, these headquarters obviously cannot consider each case," Wilde explained. "This is the responsibility of the local board. Its members have that intimate knowledge of the registrant, of his personal situation, and other national defense needs of his community that must be given primary consideration in any democratic formula."
