Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's address on citizenship education, scheduled this afternoon, will be repeated by transcription over WIBA at 7:30 tonight.

The far-flung facilities of radio is covering the European war-front and the defense program at home with a graphically demonstrated "Two Years at War," a 60-minute program coming through WIBA at 8 tonight.

Broadcast on the first day of the war's third year, the program will open with a short talk by Niles Trammell, president of the National Broadcasting Co. Newscaster Lowell Thomas will be narrator.

After Trammell's talk, the microphone will switch to a Homestead, Pa., steel plant, where "the men behind the men behind the guns" will talk, thence to March Field, Calif., for a brief appearance of camp talent. Washington, D. C., and Earl Godwin, news analyst, will be next with a report on defense effort. Foreign broadcasts will be picked up next from a short-wave listening post at Bellmore, L. I.

The mike will be switched into an army camp, and then to New York, where an informal discussion on the war will be carried on by H. V. Kaltenborn, William Hillman, John W. Vandercok, John Gunther, Robert St. John, and others. British children will talk to parents at home, and the broadcast will end with discussions by NBC commentators in London, Moscow, Berlin, and other foreign capitals.

Other attractions tonight:
6 p. m.-Adventures of the Thin Man (WMAQ): A Hollywood press agent comes to grief.
6:30 p. m.-Manhattan at Midnight (WLS): "Unfinished Business," a young doctor corals a gangster.
