THE HAND IS WORTHLESS
DID YOU ever bid one of a suit over your partner's opening bid of a lower-ranking suit, and then, after he bid one of a still higher-ranking suit, pass on your next turn? You never did that with a good hand, did you? Wasn't your only purpose, in bidding at all, the hope that he might name something else which you could fit bet-ter, since his first call had been your shortest suit? If the oppoding, and your partner finally dou-bles their contract, are you going to take it out because your hand is worthless on the defense? Of course not. You have already told him your hand is lacking in honor strength, and his business or penalty double must be based entirely on what he thinks he can do with-
