

Sigma To Offer Hit Showing Navy's Devotion To Service

Lyric And State Have Double Bills; Ohio Shows Musical Feature With War Film At Quilna

"Navy Blue and Gold," which opens Wednesday at the Sigma, deals poignantly with the devotion of cadets pledged to their country's service and the love of two players for the sister of their quarterback pal. James Stewart, Robert Young and Florence Rice are starred. Also on the new bill will be "Scattergood Meets Broadway." "International Squadron," shows thru Tuesday.

"They Knew What They Wanted," featuring Carole Lombard and Charles Laughton, is now showing at the Lyric.

Completing the program is "Country Fair," which concerns the efforts of a gubernatorial candidate in garnering the votes of Potts-co which contains a deciding vote composed of hillbillies.

Packed with music, "Lady Be Good," has been hailed by Ohio movie fans as an outstanding production of the fall season. Three favorite tunes, "The Last Time I Saw Paris," "Fascinating Rhythm," and "Oh, Lady Be Good," are sung. Leading parts are taken by Eleanor Powell, Ann Sothern and Robert Young.

All who have seen "A Yank in the R. A. F.," at the Quilna theatre term it as one of the best action pictures in months. Aerial battles in the film are authentic and were filmed over Germany, France and England with the cooperation of the British air ministry. Tyrone Power and Betty Grable are co-starred.

"Tom, Dick and Harry," a rollicking comedy featuring lovely Ginger Rogers, continues at the State theatre. Completing the program is the thrill hit, "Shining Victory," with James Stephenson and Geraldine Fitzgerald.

Headed by that immortal of moan music, Gershwin, the names of America's top tunesmiths adorn the credit list of the new musical, "Lady Be Good," starring Eleanor Powell, Ann Sothern and Robert Young, and now at the Ohio theatre.

"Lady Be Good" boasts two Gershwin compositions, namely "Lady Be Good" and "Fascinating Rhythm." In addition there is the popular Jerome Kern-Oscar Hammerstein II number, "The Last Time I Saw Paris." The new compositions, "You'll Never Know" and "Your Words and My Music," have Arthur Freed and Roger Edens as lyricist and composer.

Aimed to please every type of audience, "Lady Be Good" combines excellent story material along with laughs, melody and dancing.

The film marks the return to the screen of Eleanor Powell, whose last film, "Broadway Melody of 1940," hit a new high in dancing. The new musical, however, tops even that in its dance novelties. Outstanding among her numbers is a routine in which she shares honors with one of the most remarkable dogs ever presented to audiences. His name is Buttons. Other of Miss Powell's dances includes a fast tap number and a Doogie-Woogie offering.

Hitting a new stride as well as Ann Sothern, whose "Maistic" characterizations skyrocketed her to stardom, Miss Sothern appears in a chic, smart role ornamented by twenty-three of Adrian's smartest designs.

LYRIC—The new picture, "Country Fair," which will be shown at the Lyric theatre Tuesday promises to be one of the entertainment surprises of the new season.

A grand array of stars, most of them prominent on both screen and radio, are well known to the American theatre public as acres of laughter.

Eddie Foy, Jr., prominent son of a famous father, is cast in the lead role of the film with such high-caliber supporting players as Lulabelle and Scotty. June Clyde, who is starting on the screen career which ended abruptly in 1937, Guinn "Big Boy" Williams, Whitey, radio's "Duke of Paducah," and Harold Peary, better known as "Holderslove" on the Fibber McGee and Molly radio program.

The story concerns the efforts of Stogie McPhee, a gubernatorial candidate, in garnering the votes of Potts-co, which contains a deciding vote composed of hillbillies. Williams, mayor of the town—also a blacksmith—controls the vote and is offered the lieutenant governor's chair to insure the vote.

The campaign runs its merry way with a series of reverses and exciting adventures which often border on the hilarious. Everything turns out well in the end, of course, but not till a grand mix-up results in one of the most hectic hours of comedy seen in a motion picture.

A striking departure from his customary sinister character portrayals, Charles Laughton plays a thoroughly human, likeable individual in the co-feature "They Knew What They Wanted," in which he is co-starred with Carole Lombard.

CHILD WELFARE CARRIES ON FINE PROGRAM HERE DURING PAST 24 YEARS

The Allen-co Child Welfare-ssn is a private children's agency which for 24 years has cared for and protected neglected children and has carried on a program to prevent dependency of delinquency. The agency assumes custody of many children upon referral from the divorce court or the juvenile court from broken homes if the parents were unable or unfit to assume their responsibility. The association is certified by the State Department of Public Welfare to investigate and license boarding homes for the care of children who need foster home placement. From Aug. 1, 1910 to July 31, 1941, 10 children received care in boarding homes, 11 other children were cared for in foster homes. Five children were placed in adoptive homes and supervised until the completion of the adoption. One hundred and forty-nine children received service from the agency during the year.

By doing that we didn't hold up defense plans by as much as a single minute," said the director. "The nation's companies, at the request of the British Air Ministry, the British Air Commission and the R. A. F. cooperated with us. They kept us posted about take-offs and test flights so we were on hand on time."
