

"Sergeant York" Will Open At Ohio On Friday Evening

Gary Cooper Plays Title Role In Story Of The Greatest Individual Hero In World War No. 1

The film story of the World war's greatest individual hero will be told in "Sergeant York," starring Gary Cooper, which commences with a reserve seat premiere showing at 8:30 p. m. Friday at the Ohio theatre.

With its theme revolving about a woman's mis-step and the retribution that follows, "They Knew What They Wanted," the current Lyric film, stars Charles Laughton, Carole Lombard and William Gargan.

At the Majestic theatre the double bill includes "You'll Find Out" and "Six Shooting Sheriff."

In these days when folks are becoming ever increasingly American-conscious, it is fitting that the story of one of the greatest Americans of the World War should be hailed.

Early reports from Hollywood and the press indicate that "Sergeant York" is more than the exciting story of a hero.

It was in the Tennessee back-hills where Al York was born and bred to a life of hardy and small rewards.

Walter Brennan, Joan Leslie, George Tobias, Stanley Ridges and a great many other film favorites comprise their splendid cast.

Seldom has Hollywood lavished upon a single motion picture the acclaim being accorded Columbia's "Here Comes Mr. Jordan," during different new type of comedy which opens Friday at the Quilna theatre.

Boasting a maximum of thrills and songs, and an excellent cast, the new western, "Nevada City," will open Friday at the Lyric theatre.

OPENS AT OHIO FRIDAY

FUNNY BUSINESS

"Park right here, please—I want to show my new buddy how to fill in a ticket!"

able to confer immortality upon himself by uttering the magic word "Shazam," returning again to normal life as "Billy Batson," radio operator on the Malcol scientific expedition.

He is seeking to prevent the forces of evil, led by a mysterious man calling himself "The Scorpion," from obtaining possession of the five magic lenses which will, when operated in unison, give their owner the power of world dominion.

Tom Tyler has the title role in the production, with Frank Coghlan, Jr., Louise Currie, Robert Strange, Harry Worth, Jack Mulhall and Reed Hadley in supporting roles.

A stirring navy story, "Navy Blue and Gold," starring James Stewart, Robert Young and Lionel Barrymore, is at the Sigma screen for a return showing in answer to widespread popular demand.

The colorful story of life at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis gives its big trio of stars every opportunity for telling dramatic performances, aided by Florence Rice in the feminine lead, with an outstanding supporting cast featuring Billie Burke, Tom Brown, Samuel S. Hinds, Paul Kelly and Barnett Parker, under the direction of Sam Wood.

James Stewart, in the role of a Navy officer up from a battleship to try for his stripes at the Academy, once again proves himself one of the most talented and versatile of the screen's male stars, with Robert Young as a cynical young midshipman, coming him a close second in the matter of stealing stellar bonors.

Barrymore, of course, is Barrymore always, which is to say that his characterization of the veteran coach is superb. Miss Rice, in the leading feminine role, is adorable and it is easy to understand why two midshipmen would love her. The story presents three midshipmen from different stations in life, who are drawn together at the Academy, on the gridiron and as classmates. Young is a cynic with no intention of remaining in the service.
