Two Fine New Features To Start At Sigma Wednesday

"Burma Convoy" Has Charles Bickford In Leading Role; "Henry Aldrich For President" Is Second Attraction

Charles Bickford heads the cast of "Burma Convoy," adventurous drama of one of the world's hot spots, which moves into the Sigma theatre Wednesday, Others in the cast are Evelyn Ankers, Frank Albertson and Keye Luke, Cofeatured is "Henry Aldrich For President," with Jimmy Lydon in the title role. Showing for the last times are "New York Town," starring Fred!

MacMurray, Mary Martin and Robert Preston, and "Let's Go Collegiate."

"The Feminine Touch," starring Rosalind Russell, Don Ameche and Kay Francis, commences at the Ohio theatre Wednesday. It is a comedy lampooning the fake sophistication of the literary crowd whose cuckee antics are described against a backdrop of Greenwich Village, a Park Avenue penthouse and a lodge in the Adirondacks. Tuesday's concluding film is "Hold Back the Dawn," starring Charles Boyer, Olivia de Havilland and Paulette Goddard.

Fred Astaire and Rita Hayworth trip the light fantastic in "You'll Never Get Rich," current Quilna theatre attraction based on the lighter side of army camp life. In the supporting east are Robert John Hubbard, Osa Massen, Frieda Inescort, Guinn Williams and Donald MacBride lending color and comedy to the newest of Hollywood's featured dancing teams.

New song hits, great stars and musical, "The Great American Broadcast," which is now at the Lyric theatre. Alice Faye, Jack Oakie, John Payne and Cesar Romero are the stars of the film. Margaret Lockwood faces strange

Call it glamor, comph, "it," alwant. If it's feminine and pulls like a truck rolling downhill, Rita Hayworth has it to a degree fast making the nation's males pop-eyed. Striking as her beauty may be. Rita enjoys equally innate talent.

Born Margarita Carmen Cansoni, she is the daughter of Eduardo Cansino, third-generation star of the Spanish dancing family that has thrilled international audiences for nearly a century. Currently Rita is enthralling Quilna theatre audiences with her dancing opposite Fred Astaire in "You'll Never Get Rich."

The actress was born in New i York City. It was taken for granted that she would some day join the family act, and Rita dutifully made her debut at six. There was no place in the whirlwind Cansino routines for a baby however cute and able; she was likely to get bowled over, Nevertheless, Eduardo made a place one night in Baltimore to reward his child for her diligence in practicing. Rita did apply herself, and to avail. At 14, maturing into an attractive young woman, she became star of the spectacular act. During the next few years she appeared all over America. One engagement took the danseuse to Agua Caliente when that swank resort was in its heyday. Originally booked for four weeks, she was held over for 25 consecutive months. It was at Caliente that the girl first caught Hollywood's eye. Rita was persuaded to come north and
