Could Cleopatra Drink a Pearl with Stomach Ulcer Pains? An intriguing story of Cleopatra is the one where an admirer praised the beauty of two of her ponds, whereupon she dropped one into a glass of wine and drank it. She would hardly have done this had she suffered alternating pains. Those who are distressed with stomach or ulcer pains, indigestion, gas pains, heartburn, burning sensation, flat and other conditions caused by excess acid should try a 25c box of Ugea Tablets. They must help or money refunded. At Rensselaer Drug Stores and drug stores everywhere.—Ady.

Good Listening: Impartial News

By RHEA M. ACLY (Member of the Radio Committee, Madison Branch, American Association of University Women)

America today is at the crossroads of a great decision. Within us lies the power to lead the world to higher living, peaceful pursuits and future justice. Only by being rightfully informed of the real issues in what we are now realizing is a world revolution, can we reach right conclusions. Are we to hold the balance of power and still refuse the responsibility? Answers to such important questions often may be heard discussed by many impartial radio commentators. Through this column we would like to help you find them and recognize in them something more than propagandists.

Coming over NBC (WMAQ) at 12 noon on Sundays is a foremost interpreter of word affairs and a splendid speaker, Upton Close. He substitutes sometimes for Lowell Thomas at 5:30 p. m. over WLW. Born Feb. 24, 1894, in the state of Washington of pioneer parents his early life was shaped by the rugged northwest, his real name is Josef Washington Hall. He was educated in the state schools and later became a professor in Washington university. He received his B.A. from George Washington university. Besides being a professor, radio commentator and lecturer he has traveled extensively for the National Geographic society, was in Shantung during the Japanese invasion 1916-1917, became a newspaper correspondent in China, Japan and Siberia 1917-1922; traveled in India, Russia and Syria 1927-1933; Europe 1932-1935; then Mexico 1937.

He is also the author of many books among which is a biography of Stalin; is contributing editor for the Saturday Review, New York Times and at present a special writer for the Reader's Digest. One so well informed could well be recommended as a commentator as he also has the reputation for rightness and accuracy emphasizing always American views on Europe's war and our own job in the Pacific.

Two others we would invite you to watch, one Clifton Utley, a veteran radio commentator, the other John B. Hughes, a new voice over the air waves, 11 a. m., WGN.

Although we realize Clifton Utley is well known and has been heard regularly over WLS at 7 a. m. also at 6:30 p. m. over WGN in this area, yet few men in America have been honored with so many positions of note in their own home towns.

Roosevelt Armistice Day Address Heads Star Week's List of Radio Features

President Roosevelt's Armistice Day address will headline a star-studded schedule on the air this week. Besides this and other Armistice events, the networks will offer two special features with long lists of outstanding speakers, musicians, and entertainers—the Red Cross roll call Tuesday night and the National Broadcasting Co.'s 15th anniversary celebration Saturday night.

Here are the attractions, by calendar and clock: MONDAY 1 p. m.—Coach Harry Stahlbroder

2 p. m.—Armistice Day: Commander Lynn Stambaugh of American Legion introduces President Roosevelt at Arlington cemetery—WIBA, WFL, WIND, WLS, WMAQ, WGN. 3 p. m.—Armistice Day: Dane County Veterans council presents Atty. Gen. Bull on "Americanism"—WIBA. 4 p. m.—Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary discussion of "Americanism"—WIBA. 5 p. m.—Armistice Day: Circuit Judge Alvin C. Reis in a decision Saturday set aside a state industrial commission interpretation of employees "loaned" from one employer to another.

The commission had ruled for Hazel Hill, Wisconsin Rapids, in her unemployment compensation action against the Mead-Witter properties, after she lost her job. Mead-Witter had only four regular employees, and was not subject to the unemployment compensation act which requires employment of at least eight.

But the consolidated Water Power and Paper Co. loaned some of its employees, such as painters, to Mead-Witter, and the commission held that such additions made the latter an employer subject to the act.

"The commission has confused the rules as to presumptions of when a man is an employee rather than an independent contractor—with the wholly unrelated question of who is the employer of a person admittedly an employee," Judge Reis said.

APPOINTMENT APPROVED Circuit Judge A. C. Hoppmann Saturday confirmed a state banking commission appointment of Donald E. Gill as trustee in the segregated trust of the Commercial State bank to succeed the late Dr. A. L. Bents.

Planes to Fly Over Trux Grave Seven planes of the Madison Aviation assn. will fly in formation at 2:30 p. m. today over the former Madison resident, who was killed in a plane accident in California a week ago. The planes will drop flowers over the Forest Hill cemetery grave.

Four Education Week Programs on WIBA Four radio programs will be broadcast from WIBA in observance of American Education week starting today. Prof. J. Kenneth Little will speak on "Education and the Priority Lists" at 7:30 p. m.

A dramatic broadcast, "Education for the American Way of Life," will be presented Monday at 7:45 p. m. The radio play written by Roger Maas, Lowell school speech teacher, will tell how modern high school activities help prepare youth for the American way of living.

Participants will include Dirk Keezen, member of Lowell PTA, William Marsh, Central high school teacher, and the following East high school students: Jo Ann Dish, Marlin Steinhauer, Jane Jackson, Naomi Simonson, Wallace Randall, Donald Flaherty, and Paul Sproule.

A musical program will be presented Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. A cornet trio of Central high school students, Tom Basile, Stephen Reilly, and Jeffrey Quinn, will play "Three Kings" by Walter Smith under direction of Leroy Klose.

The East high school girls' triple trio will sing "Ave Maria" by Schubert under direction of Cecile Vogelbaugh. Singers include Barbara Juster, Helen Schuman, Connie Lewis, Betty Sprout, Jo Ann Dish, Kathleen Amacher, Elaine Bergum, Fern Edwards, and Alice Sternke.

Ensemble to Play A string ensemble from West High school will play "When the Day is Done" by Robert Katscher and "Begin the Beguine" by Cole Porter. Richard Church will direct. Players will be Myra Koehler, Phyllis Mickle, violins; Noel Thompson, viola; Patricia Sevringhaus, cello; Maxine Rusch, bass viol; and Ann Dre Schillingen, piano.
