Lyric And State Offer Double Features With New Films At Quilna; Air Picture At Ohio

With its basis the stormy marriage of a temperamental stage star and an equally volcanic financier, "Father Takes a Wife," opens Wednesday at the Sigma theatre. Gloria Swanson comes back to the screen as the imperious actressheroine of the gay offering, and Adolphe Menjou is costarred in the role of the shipping magnate who leads her to the altar. "Riding the Wind" is the co-feature.

"The Richest Man in Town," drama of everyday folks, is currently at the Lyric theatre! featuring a cast including Frank Craven, Edgar Buchanan, Roger Payor and Eileen O'Hearn. Also showing is "Her Enlisted Man," starring Robert Young and Barbara Stanwyck, with Cliff Edwards, Gordon Jones and Hardie Albright as featured members of the supporting cast. Joan Crawford, Robert Taylor, Greer Garson and Herbert Marshall head the brilliant cast of "When Ladies Meet," a story of four sophisticated people mixed up in love, in the film now at the State theatre. Orville O. Dull, formerly of Lima, was an associate producer of the film. Cofeatured is "Dr. Kildare's Wedding Day," starring Lew Ayres, Lionel Barrymore and Laraine

The exciting story of the escape of a German flier over the Canadian border is the thrilling plot of "Man At Large," starring Marjorie Weaver and George Reeves and commencing Tuesday evening at the Quilna theatre. Portraying the most fearless fighting man in all Zane Grey's gallery of Western heroes, George Montgomery is starred in the co-feature, "Last of the Duanes." Showing for the last times Tuesday is "The Men in Her Life," starring Loretta
