Enlistees! Apply for Birth Records Two Weeks Ahead

Wisconsin men who plan to enapply for a certified copy of birth certificate about two weeks in advance of their visit to the recruiting station, according to Francis E. Kester, head of the bureau of vital statistics, state board of health.

Still swamped by national de-Other Stations Sunday fense demands for proof of citizenship, the state bureau may need that much notice to provide a certified copy, Kester advised.

Men residing in the county their birth may get quicker action kee, will aid prospective soldiers, by applying to the county register sailors and marines in procuring of deeds, he pointed out, and the the needed certificate.

BEWARE OF THAT REBID SUPPOSE you are playing with a very fine partner. If he bids "one more than necessary" to overcall the opponent's suit bld at his right, count him for a strong two-suiter, and keep the bidding open for him if you have a few dregs of strength, so you can learn what is his other suit, in case you don't fit the first well enough to raise it. But, if after that, he then rebids his original suit, take care. Don't count him any longer for a strong hand, but for the other type on which he would make that jump overcall—quite a suit, bu bld for purposes of impeding the enemy. If you raise him, you may

Notice how the South player at South's double, for fancy reasons, did not work. It fooled North into thinking he could beat 4-Hearts, whereas it was made, plus an extra, with the loss of one trick in spades and one in diamonds South should not even have left the double in, after fooling his Mate.

At No. 2, South's simple overcall made it easy for West to make a free bid of 2-Hearts, so that East and West reached a game bid. South, overcalling this at 4-Spades, was set one trick, losing two in hearts, one in diamonds and one in clubs. At No. 3, South's winning bid of 2-Spades was too high for West to overcall with 3-Hearts, so he passed. North, properly treating this as probably showing a two-suiter, strained to keep it open, with 2-No Trumps. When South then bid 3-Spades. North knew the jump overcall had been on a considerable suit, but not much else. He soundly resisted the temptation to raise to game or call game in No Trumps, Neither of the opponents, blocked from having shown any fit, could dare come in over that, so at the 3-Spades it was played and made, for a clean "top on the board."

Your Week-End Lesson If you and your partner show a powerful two-suiter over a hostile opening call by bidding "one more than necessary" in one of your suits, as an almost absolute one-time force, so that on the next turn the other sult can be disclosed, what kind or kinds of Table 3 got the best result for his side by making the right bld. Behold the others first. At No. 1, takeout double? Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WANT AD-BADGER 6000

Heick Heirs Lose on One Question

Broadcast Schedules

Heirs to the estate of Mrs. Louise Heick, who died a year ago, lost on one of two questions answered by County Judge Fred M. Evans in a decision today.

The questions:

ONE. Should Mrs. Heick's estate share in sales (of real estate) after her death? Judge Evans ruled that it could not.

TWO. Should her estate share in any further payment on a $25,-264 note held by the trustee of the estate of Charles W. Dobelin, a brother, who died Dec. 27, 1930? Mrs. Heick was bequeathed five twenty-fourths of a $100,247 trust fund. The total Dobelin estate amounted to $205,791. The trust fund is shared by eight others.

The note was for $13,125 but accrued interest increased it to $25,264. Judge Evans said Mrs. Heick's estate might share in the accrued interest of $12,139 but not in interest which accrued since "The estate's right to share in income stopped at Mrs. Heick's death." he said.
