1,000 Prisoners Arrive in Canada

OTTAWA-(U.P)-One thousand German war prisoners, the first contingent to cross the Atlantic under the supervision of a Canadian military escort, have arrived in Canada and have been sent to inland prison camps, it was disclosed

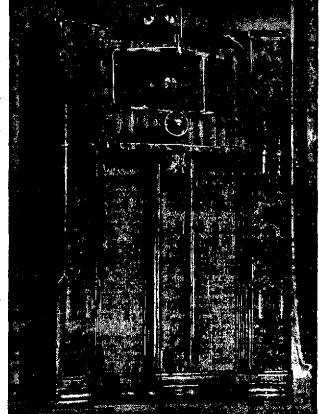

Saturday.

Most of the prisoners were Nazi irmen, a few were army men, and a sizeable number had belonged to the German navy. Ninety of the latter group were survivors of the Bismarck.

Many of the prisoners were young, some appearing to be 16 and 17. All looked healthy as they debarked from a transport ship.

Melaria causes about 16,000 deaths annually in the Philippine Islands, according to the Department of Commerce.
