"Tobacco Road" In Farewell Appearance On Ohio Stage

Comic-Mystery Holds Sigma Spotlight With . Thrilling Stories Showing At Lyric And Quilna

The play that was the sensation of Broadway for several seasons, "Tobacco Road," will be presented in a farewell appearance at the Ohio theatre at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday. Jeeter Lester, the lead role of the play, is portrayed by the veteran John Barton. Resuming its run at the Ohio Wednesday is the film, "The Corsican Brothers," starring Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

Laughter, chills and suspense are liberally sprinkled thruout the comic-mystery film, "The Body Disappears," commencing Wednesday at the Sigma theatre with Jeffrey Lynn and Jane Wyman in the starring The co-feature, "Among the Living," stars Albert Dekker. Susan Hayward, Harry Carey and Frances Farmer. Showing for the last times Tuesday are "Skylark" and "Borrowed Hero." The warm, human story of a young girl newspaper reporter, who risks her reputation, and, possibly, her life, to solve the disappearances of young, stage-struck girls, is "City of Missing Girls," currently showing at the Lyric theatre with H. B. Warner and Astrid Allwyn in the leading roles. Leon Janney and Eleanor Hunt are the stars of the co-feature, "Stolen Paradise." As a war correspondent in bomb-wracked London, Don Ameche has the starring role of the Quilna film, "Confirm or Deny," a story woven around one of exciting occupations of the newspaper life. Joan Bennett supplies the romantic interest. Co-featured "Cadet Girl," starring Carole Landis and George Montgomery.

Ultra-modern comedy with a background of literary bohemianism brings four stars to the screen in "The Feminine Touch." at the State theatre. Rosalind Russell, Don Ameche and Van Hefflin are the featured players of the film. Co-featured is the exciting story Humphrey Bogart and Mary Astor.
